Western Powers Agree To Session If Kremlin Will Add World Topics

PARIS—(AP)—The western powers agreed today to a Big Four meeting proposed by Russia, if the Kremlin will agree to broaden the agenda to include outstanding world problems in addition to Germany.

Foreign office sources said notes delivered in Moscow tonight suggested that the four powers' U. N. delegates work out the agenda, time and place for the meeting.

There have been reports that the four foreign ministers would be invited to meet in February in New York City. This was neither confirmed nor denied in French official circles tonight.

The notes were drafted in answer to Russia's Nov. 3 invitation to the western powers for a four-power session on Germany's future.

Hearing Held On '51 Budget Request

While questioning the state normal board and presidents of the four teachers colleges closely on details of their $3,995,264 budget request at a hearing Friday, Gov. Val Peterson devoted much of the time to obtaining information on the operational program.

The appropriation for the present biennium was $3,650,967. The budget shows an estimated drop from $808,250 to $619,278 in cash receipts due largely to the decrease in enrollment of veterans.

Requests for tax funds are increased from $2,025,717 for the present biennium to $2,537,585. The increase is largely to permit increases in salaries to the instruction staff.

25 Per Cent Lower. President W. G. Brooks of the Chadron college said that the Nebraska wage scale is approximately 25 per cent lower than is being paid by colleges in other states adjoining the northwest section of the state. The proposed wage adjustments will be about 10 per cent.

J. Hyde Sweet, president of the normal board, told of state colleges as far away as the Carolinas coming to Nebraska and hiring top level members of the staffs of the colleges.

Wayne O. Reed, president of Peru college, said an attempt had been made to present a "realistic figure that would put Nebraska colleges on an equitable basis with other states."

Availability. President Victor P. Morey of Wayne said that surveys show that "students look to the availability of nearby colleges" and that attendance falls off in direct ratio to the distance necessary to travel. He defended the Nebraska plan of making higher education available to as many youth as possible.

2 Women Take Their Drivers' Tests--WHAM!

REDWOOD CITY, Calif.—(AP)—There's an old gag about two women drivers being the only thing worse than one woman driver.

Don't tell it to Bert Miles or Harold Adams, drivers license examiners.

Two women came to take a road test for licenses yesterday. Away they went, in different directions—Miles with Mrs. Bette Smith, 25, and Adams with Mrs. Anna E. Moos, 50. But they met at an intersection—

U.S. Prisoner Makes City Jail Break

Bars Torn Loose; Blanket Rope Used

A federal prisoner twisted, pried and cut his way through a barred window of the city jail and lowered himself to freedom on a rope of blankets Thursday night.

Robert F. Hamilton, 27-year-old farmer from Harrisburg, Ill., was discovered missing from the second floor "bull pen" about 2 a. m., Lt. Orren Graves said.

Celmate Larry Fagg, 40, of Denver, elected to stay behind and informed police of the escape when the open window made the cell a chilly ice box.

Hamilton was lodged in jail December 6 when he failed to post a $2,500 bond ordered by U. S. Commissioner C. M. Skiles. He had been arrested by U. S. Marshal Frank Golden the same day he was released from the Nebraska pen.

Wrapping a chain around the window bars and using a steel bar, taken from the jail shower room, for leverage, the prisoner broke or twisted four bars, according to police.

Lt. Graves said that Hamilton probably used a spoon or makeshift saw to loosen the bars originally. The steel bar, on which a shower curtain normally hung was forcibly jerked from its place, Desk Sergeant Harold Piersol said.

The window is located on the north side of an areaway between police and fire headquarters. After going down the knotted blankets Hamilton must have had a walk across a lighted police parking lot.

Lt. Graves said that police believe that the young farmer probably took a car to help his escape. A 1946 model, blue convertible, taken from near Seventh and Q a little before midnight, records show. The car belongs to Kenneth J. Thomas, 3720 Adams. A broadcast concerning the car has been issued by headquarters, Sgt. Piersol said.

A federal complaint charging Hamilton with escaping custody of a United States marshal was filed in Lincoln Friday morning. The complaint was filed before U. S. Commissioner C. M. Skiles of Lincoln.

Penalty for escape carries a penitentiary sentence of five years or a fine of $5,000, or both.

Hamilton's escape came only a day or two before he was to be arraigned on a warrant charging violation of the Dyer act. A transfer of the case, requested by Hamilton, was filed and is on its way to Lincoln.

The federal indictment being sent here was issued by a Montana grand jury and charges Hamilton with grand larceny from Elkhorn, Wis., to Hardin, Mont., and from there to York, Neb., in 1948.

District court to two years and nine months in the Nebraska state penitentiary on larceny charges other than automobile theft. U. S. Marshal Frank Golden arrested Hamilton Dec. 6 when he was released from the state penitentiary and lodged him in Federal cells at the city jail to await prosecution on the Dyer act charges.

This year's total crop production in Nebraska has been valued at $681,911,000, setting a new all-time record, State-Federal Crop Statistician A. E. Anderson revealed Friday.

Another record has been chalked up in corn output value, estimated at $350,945,000. Although the total corn production this year of 250,675,000 bushels has been exceeded several times in the past, the value figure tops the previous high of $349,357,000 for 1946.

Based On Average Prices. These figures were released by the state-federal bureau of agricultural statistics in the annual crop summary for Nebraska. Officials explain the figures are based on season average prices for the crops.

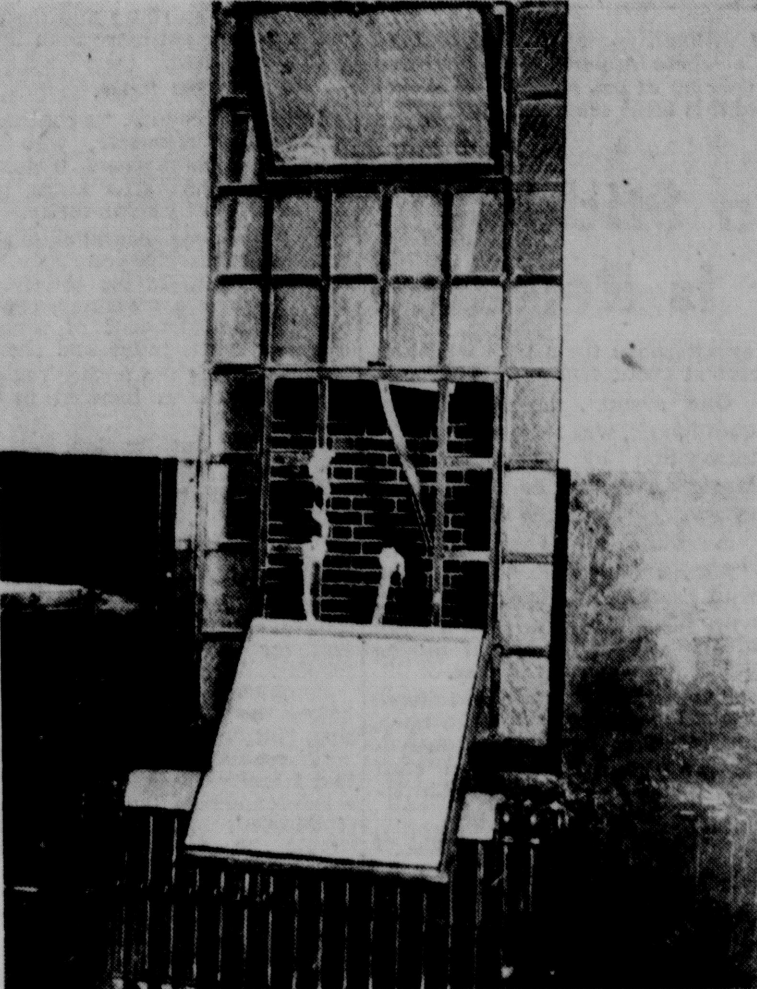

The 1950 corn production value was based on a $1.40 per bushel figure, while the 1946 value was based on $1.51 per bushel. A low acreage kept this year's value from going even higher, the ag experts said.

The winter wheat crop, third largest in production this year, was valued at $168,250,000, second highest on record. This was topped only by the 1946 figure of $171,370,000.

In production, the wheat yields in 1947 and 1946 exceeded the 1950 output.

The value of the 1950 oats crop was placed at $49,575,000. Both yield and value have been exceeded in the past. This year's production was only average, ag officials say.

Other figures: Barley $5,107,000; rye $2,777,000; all sorghums, for grain, $4,051,000; all hay, $76,725,000; soybeans for beans $2,484,000; potatoes, $8,726,000; beans, dry edible $5,518,000; popcorn $364,000; alfalfa seed $1,752,000; sweet clover $994,000; and apples $105,000.

Lad's Letter To Santa Brings His Daddy Home

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — Bobby Hiner, 9, La Porte, Ind., put a letter into the Santa Claus mailbox in the La Porte courthouse.

It read: "Last year I asked you to bring my Daddy home for Christmas. This year I wish after you had delivered your toys to all the good girls and boys that you would stop by and take me with you as far as Alaska when you go home to the North Pole."

Bobby's father, Andrew Hiner, has been working in coal mines near Jonestown, Alaska, for about a year and a half. Recently, he suffered a back injury in an accident.

La Porte businessmen, who handle Santa Claus mail, asked Ronald McVickar, Chicago manager for Northwest Airlines, if he could locate Bobby's father. Northwest headquarters here did, via telephone, teletype and radio. They found he was convalescing from the accident and able to fly back to the United States on a ticket purchased by the businessmen.

Bobby's father is scheduled to step from a Northwest plane at the Chicago airport today. Bobby, his two brothers and his mother will be on hand.

Wholesalers' Prices Rise To New High

WASHINGTON—(AP)—For the fourth week in a row, wholesale prices set a new high record during the week ended Dec. 19.

The bureau of labor statistics reported today its index of wholesale prices pushed upward to 174.7 per cent in the 1926 average, 11.3 per cent above the May 24-June 24 average and 1.2 per cent above the levels of Dec. 5.

NEW RED BLOWS POSSIBLE — Rising red attacks on northeast approaches (1) to Seoul brought warning from Gen. MacArthur that another big communist offensive may be on the way. South Korean forces were rolled back nearly two miles northeast of Chunchon. A sizable Chinese red force was spotted in Yonchon. In Hungnam area (2) U. S. rapid-fire rocket ships moved in, laying a fiery shield around the beachhead area. Gen. MacArthur said Chinese forces have made a slow but definite deployment south to a general east-west line through Sariwon (underlined). (AP Wirephoto Friday.)

Peiping Issues An Angry Reply

Chou En-lai Demands Withdrawal Of All Foreign Troops From Korea And Admission To The U.N.

TOKYO—(AP)—Red troops were reported south of Korea's 38th parallel tonight and preparing a new offensive as the Chinese communist regime rejected—except on its own tough terms—the latest United Nations effort to arrange a cease-fire.

The Peiping radio broadcast a statement by red Premier Chou En-lai that retirement of all foreign troops from Korea, American withdrawal "from Formosa" and Chinese red admission to the U. N. were the only conditions on which he would even talk of a cease-fire.

This angry statement, heard in Tokyo, came as rising red attacks against United Nations forces in western Korea prompted a warning by Gen. MacArthur that a big new Chinese offensive might be imminent.

Rocket Ships In Action. In northeast Korea, evacuation of nearly 25,000 frightened civilians from the red-besieged beachhead port of Hungnam was reported by AP Correspondent Tom Lambert.

Close-range rocket ships, big naval guns and artillery still shielded the same beachhead — the United Nations' last foothold in North Korea.

The flat trajectory and comparatively short range of the rocket ships indicated the reds were being held at bay closer to the beachhead.

No description of the vessels was given, but rocket-firing craft were used to support the allied landings at Inchon on the west coast in September. They were used also late in World War II.

Six-Point Statement. China's rejection of any talk toward a cease-fire was made in a six-point statement broadcast in Peiping and heard here.

The red premier-foreign minister said the three-man U. N. committee's appeal was "unlawful" because Chinese communists did not participate in formation of the committee at the U. N. assembly.

The committee had sent the Peiping regime three requests to negotiate for a cease-fire—the last one Thursday night, New York time.

The United Nations general assembly at Lake Success set up the committee during a consideration of the Korean crisis.

A red Chinese delegation's chief spokesman blasted the U. N. in a lengthy speech, but it was not permitted to participate in the decisions because red China is not a member. The Chinese left New York for home earlier this week.

The red attacks in western Korea started shortly before Chou's rejection of cease-fire dickerings. The attacks indicate an all-out offensive against U. N. forces could be expected almost any hour.

Overseas were guessing that Christmas eve might be the signal for the new red drive because of the Oriental practice of General MacArthur's late Friday war summary said from 10 to 12 divisions have been identified along Parallel 38, arbitrary boundary between North and South Korea.

However, temperatures will be about normal throughout the holiday week-end. Night lows are expected to be around 20, daytime highs in the 50s.

Friday saw winter officially ushered in with spring-like temperatures in the fifties. The 12:30 p. m. temperature was 52, and the weather bureau said the mercury might even get near the 60 mark before evening.

The first day of winter began officially at 4:14 a. m.

Friday's high temperatures did not set a record for Dec. 22, though. In 1933, the mercury went up to 70 on Dec. 22.

Highest temperatures Friday are expected to be between 55 and 60 degrees over the state. Tonight's lows are to be in the lower 30s.

Scottsbluff won the temperature trophy Thursday with 59 degrees for the highest in the state.

Crash Kills Lincoln Man

... Near Dorchester

(Special to The Star)

DORCHESTER, Neb.—A Lincoln salesman, Frank A. Parolek, 41, 4117 Washington street, was instantly killed near here Thursday night in a one-car crash. The accident occurred along Highway 33, directly south of Dorchester.

Parolek, en route from Friend to Crete, apparently lost control of his car, according to Saline County Sheriff John Tesar. The vehicle hit a knoll at the roadside, bounced into the air and traveled 93 feet, and then rolled for 85 yards, the sheriff said.

A Crete trucker was an eyewitness to the accident and immediately contacted authorities. Time of the crash was placed at 6:30 p. m.

The Paroleks had resided in Lincoln for the past five years.

Parolek is survived by his wife, Lillian; a daughter, Claudette; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parolek; a brother, Victor, Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Adolph Vitke, Schuyler, and Mrs. Adolph Vitke, Scribner. Funeral arrangements are pending.

The fatality was the fifth auto death in Saline county for the year and the 294th for the state.

Zone Board Asks Change In Rule On Parking Lots

A special zoning classification for parking lots, putting them back in their original classification when vacated, was recommended to the city council Thursday by the Zoning board of appeals.

Harvey Rathbone, who introduced changes to local business for parking lots open the way for other industries to develop when a parking lot is vacated and is against the intentions of the change.

The board recommended that the city council give special consideration to the measure.

Out of the six zoning applications heard by the board Thursday only one was denied completely. The board refused the permit of Tony Domino to enclose the porch fronting the Italian Village at Fifty-eighth and O streets because it would violate the building set-back ordinance.

The board denied the original application of Max Kuhn for a change in zoning from residence A to residence C of property at Twenty-sixth and W but passed change in residence B of all property now in residence A within the area from Vine street to the industrial area on the North between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets. The change allows Kuhn to alter a house for apartment use thereby accomplishing the purpose of his request.

The T. O. Haas Tire store was given permission to construct a quonset type building for its business in the 500 block on West C.

Permission was also granted for the building of a retail furniture store by Paul Armstrong in the 200 block on North F.

Two other requests, those of Hazel I. Trout to operate a child care center at 3110 N. and William Veith for a change in zoning from apartment A to commercial A at 831-Fifth J street, were also approved.

SHE LOOKED DOWN A GUN BARREL — When Miss Evelyn Bradford, bookkeeper and cashier at Ames Apparel, Inc., saw the gun a daring daytime bandit was pointing at her, she packed about $90 into a Christmas box and handed it to him. (Staff Photo.)

$90 Taken In Stick-Up; Only Suspect Is Released

Police were still searching Friday afternoon for a man who held up the Ames Dress Shop, 1220 O street at about 4:40 p. m. Thursday.

One suspect, brought in for questioning, was released after interrogation by Inspector Gene Masters and after he was seen by eye-witnesses of the holdup.

According to reports of witnesses, a handsome young man with "soft brown eyes" made off with $90 after holding up a clerk of the store with a gun hidden under a folded newspaper.

The bandit, who had loitered about the store for over an hour, forced Clerk Evelyn Bradford of 430 South Seventeenth to stuff the loot in a gaily colored Christmas box.

Then he calmly walked out of the store and east on O street, the gun still concealed under the newspaper.

Mrs. Dorothy Evnen, the store's manager, told police that neither herself nor clerks other than Miss Bradford were aware of a stickup was under way.

Store Maid Pearl Temple of 239 South Twentieth and Clerk Helma Oliphant of the Victoria hotel also agreed the young thief was "very handsome."

According to Mrs. Evnen, the man stood in front of the shop for about an hour, reading a newspaper. When he finally entered she immediately approached him, and the young man commented, "It's sure hard to have to wait for your wife while she's shopping."

The man then walked from the store and returned in about 30 minutes with a newspaper folded about his left hand. Miss Bradford, sitting at the cashier's desk, asked if she could be of service.

"Yes, get out a box and put the cash in it. Bills, not change," he said as he leaned across the counter. Miss Bradford said that she could see the barrel of the pistol in the folds of the paper.

"She quickly crammed $90 into the box and faced the wall as ordered. Other clerks and customers were doing business as usual during the robbery."

The man was described as about 20 to 25 years old, six feet tall, with sandy hair. He was dressed in a grey jacket and grey pants. All of the ladies questioned by detectives were quick to agree that the stickup man's most noticeable features were his "soft brown eyes."

Senator Asks County Officer Salary 'Floor'

State Senator R. L. Hill of Hebron proposed Friday to put a "floor" under county officers' salaries and give the county boards authority to raise them.

Hill said he planned to introduce a bill to make the present pay which county officers receive the "floor."

"Then I would throw it into the lap of the county board, to raise them if they saw fit," he explained.

Hill thought the salary of many county officers should be at least $500 higher.

"The county clerk in Jefferson county receives $2,900 a year. City employees in Fairbury and the post office janitor get more than that," Hill commented.

$200 Raise

In Thayer county, he continued, the county treasurer, who has been in office 16 years, is getting only $200 more, after taxes, than he got his first year in office.

Hill believes consolidation of county offices has gone about as far as it can. In his county, he said, there is a treasurer, county clerk, superintendent of schools, clerk of court, judge and sheriff.

The work of the former register of deeds now is handled in the clerk's office.

No Justification

Hill asserted he could not see any justification for holding county salaries at their present level, "when the janitor gets more than the county officials."

He pointed out that the plan he suggested for fixing the pay of all county officials already is in effect for the superintendents of schools.

Commenting on other problems before the coming legislative session, Hill declared:

"If we have to come to a sales tax, I feel we should put it up to a referendum of the people. And if adopted, half of the revenue should be earmarked for real estate relief."

"The people have definitely spoken on the road question. But I feel if we're going to have a road program, we should give a little more to the counties for farm-to-market roads."

"We have to get the farmers out of the mud some way before we start a big state building program. It was the farmers who beat the 1949 road program. They are dissatisfied," Hill continued.

Hill said also that he favored putting the state budget on an annual basis, because of price fluctuations.

Board To Hear Man Convicted Of Manslaughter

The state parole board Friday scheduled a hearing for Jan. 22 on the application of Felix J. Strong, 24, who is serving a seven-year manslaughter sentence from Douglas county.

Strong claimed Linstrom struck first.

Two Hurt Slightly In Similar Accidents

Two similar accidents about noon Friday resulted in slight injuries to two Lincolmites.

The first accident, at 11:11 a. m., occurred at Sixteenth and K streets when a car, driven by Clark B. Luthult, 64, 433 South Seventeenth, collided with a milk truck driven by Lawrence F. Emery, 21, 5242 Madison, and turned it over. Emery was treated for bruises at Lincoln General hospital and is being held there for observation.

James D. Schwarck, 31, 4316 North Forty-Eighth, was the other person injured about 12:30 p. m. He was driving south on Forty-eighth street when his car overturned after colliding with an auto driven by Mrs. Clyde Henderson, 2105 South Forty-ninth, and turned it over. Schwarck was treated for minor lacerations at Bryan Memorial hospital and then released.

The college heads explained that it was necessary in operation of cafeterias, travel of athletic teams, and certain other student activities to have cash available to pay bills immediately.

"It takes three days for a letter to reach Lincoln from Chadrone and three for it to return," President Brooks explained. "Hotel men will not wait that long for vouchers to clear through the state. The small stores that furnish us foodstuffs cannot finance the state for as long as it takes vouchers for minor items to clear."

Governor Peterson said he was of the opinion that Auditor Johnson had some legitimate complaints on the keeping of too much money locally and not channeling it through the state treasurer. However, he said he realized the local problems too.

Central Account

"Maybe a central bank account could be arranged," he said. "While there have been no complaints of shortages, it is not good government to have funds of the state considered personal or private for even a second."

The governor questioned whether the colleges were making major repairs and remodeling as rapidly as funds from the 1.1 mill would allow.

"It's like supporting a second wife," President Sweet responded. He said the repair program was constant. Funds used so far have all been for replacements and repairs and no expansion building has been done, he continued.

Not Fast Enough

Sweet said the funds do not come in fast enough to do everything needed and that the $502,000 balance on Dec. 1 had been accumulated for an auditorium building at Chadrone to replace the present one which has condemned by the fire marshal. It was planned to let contracts right after the first of the year.

The college presidents pointed out that some minor maintenance has been completed with the

F. A. Robinson, Ex-Nebraskan, Dies In Mexico

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Funeral services were to be held here Friday for insurance executive Floyd A. Robinson, 46, native of Fairbury, Neb.

Burial was to be in the American cemetery here.

Robinson and three employees of his company were killed Tuesday night in an auto accident near Monterey.

Robinson had been head of the Pan-American Insurance company of Mexico for the last two years.

Robinson was born in Fairbury, Neb., and worked in La Ceiba and Tegucigalpa, Honduras, before going to New Orleans in 1938. He is survived by his widow, the former Elizabeth Woodville, New Orleans, and his parents in San Bernardino, Calif.

Considerable time was spent in discussing accounting systems in the teachers college and the governor recommended that presidents meet with Auditor Ray Johnson and try and work out bookkeeping satisfactory to him.

Holiday Rush Of Travelers Has Begun

Bigger Crowds Than Last Year Expected

Holiday travel rush is on. Rail, bus and air lines told The Star Friday they had all put on extra equipment to handle the extra traffic—which looks like it will be heavier this year than last.

Airlines reported the biggest rush. A United Air Lines official said his company had a 32 per cent increase in business over last Yule season, and that the traffic out of Lincoln was "definitely heavier than last year."

United has put on many extra flights to handle passengers, he said, though the flight stopping in Lincoln have not yet been increased. Many extras are now running out of Omaha, which handles most of United's Nebraska passengers.

Buses Full

Union bus station officials said they were putting second buses on most runs, and that in many cases the second sections were running full. Peak of the season will see every available bus running, they said.

Burlington railroad officials reported extra cars had been added to all trains. They said there was a slight increase in passenger traffic over last year, but "nothing to get excited about."

The Rock Island said it had been running extra cars on the Rockets, principal through trains serving Lincoln. A Rock Island passenger official said he had "never seen a Christmas season so heavy."

Standing By

The Missouri Pacific said it had extra equipment standing by for the Lincoln-Union run for use when needed. On Missouri Pacific through lines, which do not touch here, extra cars have been added on most trains.

One railway official speculated that perhaps people were trying to get their travel out of the way before war-time restrictions. None reported anything unusual in the number of servicemen traveling, but it is known that many servicemen are being allowed holiday furloughs.

The transportation officials are all standing by to put on more service in case of bad weather, which forces travelers off the highways.

Mrs. Krause Heads Legion Auxiliary's Defense Department

Mrs. Clark Krause, Albion, has been named chairman of the civilian defense department of the State American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Gladys Yost, Milford, state president, announced Friday.

The department has been set up nationally and the state will devote its energies to co-operating with other defense agencies, Mrs. Yost explained.

Mrs. Krause was a nurse overseas in World War I and is a past president of the auxiliary. She is a member of the state veterans service committee, a former member of the legislature and served on the civilian defense committee during World War II.

Riches Underground

In 18 months, an Associated Press story reports nearly 750,000 barrels of oil have been pumped from the sands of Cheyenne county, Nebraska's oil development is moving ahead, not in a volume to inspire the excitement and fever of some of the rich strikes which turned out a crop of millionaires overnight. Cheyenne's oil within this last 18 months has augmented the county's wealth by an estimated $1,750,000, not taking into account some roaring gas wells which mean more money on the line, and which also will contribute to American supplies of fuel.

We are fortunate that the new discoveries have come gradually, and without a fanfare beckoning to the speculative or gambling spirit. This business of drilling an oil well, with all the uncertainties, is costly, calling for a capital risk that may or may not pay off. The returns from the developments in Cheyenne, it is said, will just about match the investments that have been made there. Three old, well-established companies, pioneering in an unknown field, account for the bulk of Cheyenne's oil production. Up until the first of the month, the Ohio Oil company had taken out 610,000 barrels; East Gurley, 400,000 barrels; and Huntsman High, 170,000 barrels. A fourth rich producer, an investing syndicate, developing the 960-acre Dorman farm lease, has pumped an approximate 100,000 barrels since last July.

The figures will not bowl anybody over but they are impressive. Nebraska for the first time enters the records as an oil state in a substantial sense. And that fact should leave its people with a good feeling.

Closed Highway Hearing

There may be reasons why the conference called by Governor Val Peterson with leaders of Nebraska farm groups next Wednesday, is closed to the press and the public. The governor explained that, in calling the conference, what he has in mind is an informal exchange of views. Probably it would be more accurate to say that the meeting is designed to remove the opposition of the farm groups to a highway program, and to explore the possibility of reaching general agreement. But it is public business that is to be discussed and highly important business, at that, which is to say that it should be out in the sunlight. If matters have reached the point where representatives of the

A PLEA FOR DEFINITION

The immediate reaction to Herbert Hoover's address on the world crisis provided striking confirmation of the true meaning of freedom. It evoked both support and criticism. Only a free world can produce that.

Representative of comment were these: Senator Herbert Lehman, New York democrat: "It appears to me to be a plea for a return to complete isolationism. If we followed President Hoover's suggestion, we would find ourselves isolated, and without any friends in the world."

Senator Robert Taft, Ohio ("Mr. Republican"): "Some people will construe it to be isolationism..."

Senator Kenneth Wherry, republican floor leader: "Mr. Hoover's proposals collide directly with those of President Truman and congress, and the public must wonder who is right."

Manchester Guardian, liberal British publication: "Hoover's record as a prophet and seer has not perhaps been remarkable for sustained wisdom."

All that this adds up to is a sum total that has been obvious for months. Is the only choice which is left to the American people in the struggle against communism one of two extremes—pulling our horns in until they do not extend beyond the three-mile limit offshore from the American mainland, or conducting a war anywhere in the world that a challenge arises? Those seem to be the alternatives which are to be forced down our throats. We, for one, do not subscribe to them. We do not concede that a refusal by this country to be drawn into a futile war with Chinese hordes on the Asiatic mainland is proof of isolationism. Quite to the contrary, that decision—wise, sound—could be evidence of a determination to husband our strength, economic and in terms of manpower, for the fullest contribution to an international role for this country.

Nor is it necessary for the United States to say to itself: "Let's pull out of every land area in the world, save the American mainland, and build our defenses upon it and command of the high seas."

Mr. Hoover is in a position to speak with unusual authority on the Chinese mainland and its communist masses. He spent some years in China in following the career of a mining engineer and he ought to know something about it and its people. But the minute he leaves the mainland, he is in deep water. He would sacrifice American lives for the defense of Formosa, a short distance offshore, and a primary target of press cannot adopt a responsible view, then it is a pretty pass. This merely is to protest another star-chamber session on public business. We have every confidence that Mr. Donovan, who covers the state house, has a very deep sense of responsibility when he begins banging keys of his typewriter.

The Neighbors Say

The season is upon us, and the evening itself, all but here... 48 hours, as the time flies... or snail-paces by... Minden had another gala Christmas opening to tuck away with the tissue paper and ribbon... "Guestimating Crowd Keeps People Busy," declared The Courier... "Figures Run From 7,500 to 20,000. One Thing Certain, Town Very, Very Full."

A little mountain chickadee knows it's Christmas... The tiny bird was found alive, caught in one of the evergreens shipped into Pawnee City. The trees left Kalispell, Montana, No Sparrow November 14 by rail, were exposed Falloch... Huber discovered its imprisonment first. Its foot was fastened to the branch by some resin that had seeped out and congealed. Warm water released the foot, and the little thing began to revive. It was placed in a cage first, but was so unhappy that George Kirkland, the store manager, released it. Thoroughly revived, the small feathered one was on its way, with only a game foot as a reminder of its harrowing experience.

At last it comes out! The identity of the questionable object in a certain current song! It is Grand Islander Arch Jarrell's composite talent—or lack of same—"in fixing up a large box for the family for Christmas. It is being carefully kept away from the other gifts under the tree and is commonly referred to as The Thing."

"Santa," wrote Ronald Schomberg, in a letter sent by way of radio station WJAG in Norfolk, "have you ever had the chickenpox? Well, I sure hope you don't get them, as I have them now and they sure itch." Angel Faces The Pierce County Leader carried the sequel. Ronald was back in school at District 55, but seven of the other eleven pupils there were home—with chickenpox. Teacher Mrs. Gladys Green was stout-heartedly carrying on with practices under a severe handicap, and The Leader concludes, "There may be a Christmas program!"

Thoughts of the holidays and thoughts of food are almost synonymous... "Big Barrel" in front of a grocery store in Newman Grove? The reporter observes, can mean only one thing... Lute-fisk time has arrived. There is one fact we have noted about placing the barrel outside of the store, and that is—no one ever suggests that it should be kept inside... And Max M. Martin, in The Pawnee Republican: "It doesn't seem too long ago that the last of the Thanksgiving turkey was creamed to put on biscuits, and the ham bone was finished in a big pot of beans—and now it's only a few days 'til Christmas."

Glass Of Water

Out Hollywood way the moguls are making a moving picture about the life of Enrico Caruso, the great operatic tenor who possessed probably the strongest voice which ever sang a note. Legend has it that Enrico could shatter an ordinary glass of water simply by singing to it in high-C. If the movie doesn't include that particular feature of his life, it is to be hoped that some mention will be made of the time Caruso, lowering as best he could his tenor voice, sang a whole basso aria when a rookie basso tightened up and couldn't sing a note. While the jittery lad went through the motions, Caruso turned away from the audience and sang the whole aria. No one in the audience, not even the critics, caught on. If the movie captures only half the thrills and excitement of Caruso's life it will be a good one.

The Chinese communists under Mao, not because of Formosa's resources, but because of its military importance and the fact that it is the refuge of Chiang Kai-shek, around whom the nationalist government revolves. We cannot anticipate very well any lessening of the pressures in sidestepping a war with the Chinese communist masses on the mainland by outwardly underwriting the Chinese nationalists entrenched upon Formosa.

It is a very vocal, persistent group that defines American internationalism in the uncompromising terms of support for Chiang Kai-shek. Senator Knowland heads it, and that is understandable because as a spokesman for California, he represents a state highly sensitive to developments in the orient.

It is not the disposition of Americans, eager, high-spirited, and impulsive as they are, to adopt middle ground in times of grave emergency. They are by nature in these circumstances, inclined to take a position at one extreme or the other. Isolationism, as the word was defined 30 years ago, is dead. Not one in a thousand anticipates or approves of a course of America's withdrawing within its shell. In this age of science, it could not if it so desired. What is in progress at this time could not be avoided, and promises to strengthen the defenses of the United States. We are getting down to the business of determining where we should stand as a substitute for an earlier commitment to fight any place in the world, which is impossible of fulfillment in a practical sense.

What is internationalism? Does it embody the fantastically extreme idea that we fight on every lonely isle, every unfriendly area in the world, whether it is to our military advantage or not? That is not internationalism in any sensible definition of the word—it is stupidity. Because we have assumed great responsibilities, the fact is that our acceptance of those responsibilities means that we fight, if fight we must, where it is to our military advantage. Only a violent, tortuous conception of internationalism would place this country in the position of becoming a victim of every diabolical, cunning trap its enemies can build and spring. Only men and women with their eyes shut to the facts of life say that we can return to the isolationism of the early 'twenties.

In realistic spirit, America, now committed to full mobilization of military strength, is not fighting, we hope, a second battle here at home over isolationism or internationalism.

— Washington Merry-Go-Round — A GRANDSON ENTERS A STRIFE-TORN WORLD

By DREW PEARSON

(ED. NOTE — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George L. Arnold of Los Angeles.)

Dear Daughter: Well, you have made your father a grandpa again! It begins to make me feel a little old. Of course, we are only as old as we feel, but today I confess to feeling quite a little older and a bit discouraged—discouraged over the state of the world. It is not a very promising world for my new grandson to face. We who preceded him and who were supposed to have built a better world have failed.

The only encouraging thing is that there will be twenty years or so before he has to face the tangled skein of world disunity, and perhaps by that time we can untangle some of our tragic mistakes.

One of the mistakes we are making today is intolerance, disunity and a quickness to judge that plays squarely into Moscow's hands. It is a new sixth column. We go from one extreme to another in this country, like an animated shuttlecock. It reminds me of the way we painted yellow stripes on the house of Lindbergh's father and threw people into jail as socialists right after World War I.

It also reminds me of the deluge of mail I got in February, 1946, when I exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada. Scores of people wrote denouncing me as a warmonger, as a disrupter of American-Russian relations, and a threat to world peace. I am sure these people were sincere, well-meaning, and thought that they were right and I was wrong. Frankly I heaved a sigh of relief when the Canadian prime minister, Mackenzie King, issued an official statement confirming the spy ring. That was the only thing that stopped the deluge of letters calling me a liar.

I don't know whether my office has kept those letters but if so, I ought to send them up to Senator McCarthy to show what others have done—long before his unbalanced tirades—to try to keep this country informed on Soviet dangers. I fear McCarthy, however, is influenced by only one motive—passion for headlines and movie lecture fees. It is not enough these days to be anti-communist. We must be pro-

HISTORY SHOWS THAT WE ARE REPEATING MISTAKES

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—After the Bolshevik revolution of 1917, which took Russia out of the alliance against Germany and out of the war, the British persisted in believing that the communist uprising was a temporary aberration which could be put to rights and the czar restored to power. Some important figures in the British cabinet in London continued to regard Lenin and Trotsky as mere German agents who could be bribed or eliminated in some fashion and the old order put back again.

Part of this strange tragicomic story is told in Sir Bruce Lockhart's witty and brilliant book, "Memoirs of a British Agent." Ignorance of the real nature of the total collapse of czarist powers and the czarist armies and the revolution which succeeded it, the British tried with feeble gestures to restore the past. The military expedition to Archangel was a dismal failure. British backing in a limited way was given to several Cossack generals who were either incompetent or corrupt, or both. An effort was made to get the Japs to take over in Siberia and a division of American troops was stationed for a number of futile months in the Siberian hinterland.

This little history lesson should be most instructive for the United States today. The American approach to communist China suggests at the moment that this country may be repeating with revolutionary China, the mistakes made by Britain with respect to revolutionary Russia.

The reports from Korea of Chinese communist soldiers hurling themselves fanatically at American tanks are illuminating. New forces have been unleashed in Asia which may not be susceptible to repression by the means used for so long by the white powers. One who had begun to perceive this was the late Wendell Willkie.

On his famous around-the-world flight, Willkie went to Chungking. There he met not only Chiang Kai-shek and the nationalist leaders but top communists then cooperating in the war against Japan. One of them was Chou En-lai, who is now foreign minister for the reds in Peiping.

After talking with Chou, Willkie wrote that if all the communists were like him, then "the movement is more a national and agrarian awakening than an international or proletarian conspiracy."

Perhaps this qualifies him as one of the naive dupes so scorned today. But, nevertheless, there is a perceptive passage in his book, "One World," that has great meaning for us today:

"... Men and women all over the world are on the march, physically, intellectually and spiritually. After centuries of ignorant and dull complacency, hundreds of millions of people in eastern Europe and Asia have opened the books. Old fears no

American. The first democratic rights any dictator must strangle are the rights of a free press and free speech. The sixth columnists and the McCarthyites have already started this by branding those who disagree with them as communists.

I remember in September, 1947, having written an expose of the communist spy ring in a Washington suburb which stole the secret blueprints of B-29s. The story seemed so sensational that some editors at that time would not publish it. And it was not until a year later, when the house un-American activities committee finally got around to the story, that some of these same editors gave the story headlines.

At the time I wrote the first story of the Canadian spy ring, I also called on the chief assistant of Jimmie Byrnes, then secretary of state, and suggested that he ought to make an investigation of Alger Hiss. It looked to me as if Hiss had been leaking information to the Russians—though I couldn't tell for sure. Byrnes did investigate and Hiss left the state department.

It was impossible for me to tell whether he was a communist—an extremely serious charge for a newspaperman to make, even though it is brandished about so irresponsibly on the floor of the senate. But I was sure that Hiss should not be in a high government position, and my conviction was justified.

All this was in February, 1946, four years before McCarthy suddenly discovered an easy way to make headlines.

There is no better way to play into the hands of Moscow than to create disunity, lack of confidence, and doubt. There is no time more advantageous for the Kremlin to strike than when we lack confidence in our leaders and when our country is torn by strife.

And the best way to do this is the Moscow-Hitler technique of repeating again and again the big lie and the big smear.

Again I apologize for writing such a discouraging letter on what should be such a joyous occasion—the advent of a new grandson. But I hope that long before he gets old enough to cope with the affairs of the world, his elders will have learned to have more sense.

STORIES OF FAMOUS HYMNS

By HORACE B. POWELL

'Christians, Awake, Salute The Happy Morn!'

Christians, awake! Salute the happy morn
Whereon the Savior of Mankind was born!
Rise to adore the mystery of love,
Which hosts of angels chanted from above.
With them the joyful tidings first begun
Of God incarnate and the Virgin's Son.

O may we keep and ponder in our mind
God's wondrous love in having lost mankind;
Trace the Babe, who has retrieved our loss
From His poor manger to His bitter cross;
Treading His steps, assisted by His grace,
Till man's first heavenly state again takes place.

Here is a hymn that began as a Christmas poem in England, nearly 200 years ago.

It was written by Dr. John Byron, a popular and distinguished physician whose poems won him as much fame as his pills and whose writings, now and then, found their way into the columns of the historic Spectator of his day.

One December night in 1745, Dr. Byron was wondering what he would give his daughter Dolly, for Christmas. "I'll write her a Christmas poem of my very own," he decided at last.

On Christmas morning he handed his daughter an envelope and said: "Here's something I've made for you for Christmas." When the manuscript tumbled out, entitled "Christmas Morn'ing for Dolly," the hymn "Christians Awake Salute The Happy Morn," as it is sung today throughout Christendom, had its first reading.

Neither father nor daughter could guess, back there in 1745, that the little Christmas poem was destined to become universally popular. It was very precious to Dolly, however, from the start and for more than a century was treasured in the Byron family.

Today the original manuscript is preserved in the files of the Chetham's Hospital for Boys at Manchester, England—an institution in which Dr. Byron took an active part during his lifetime.

IN 1806 A CLERGYMAN FORESAW THE FUTURE

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Once upon a time, as the fellow says, there was a slim, wise, gay and insulting British clergyman who teetered brilliantly between profoundly real devotion and irrepressible wit. He loved his faith but could not avoid a joke.

At the same time, and in another country, there was a new, tender, tremulous nation, just getting itself shyly under way—and occasionally flourishing its arms in the faces of older and more greedy nations. Once or twice such a greedy nation found that the flourish of arms was more than a gesture and ever since, such audacious foes have had in the end to retire to their borders and lick their wounds. The once feeble and growing little country has become large and powerful.

It was the custom in those early days to give little respect to the new country. Men of learning were certain that it would founder and, at last, perish. The clergyman, who had more sense than any one in England, then or now, was not so disposed. He looked upon the naked little fledgling and felt that it not only would survive but might, indeed become the last hope of man if given time. His intelligence told him that it was destined for stature—but as a clergyman he felt he ought to preach a small sermon to it. So he did—it was a sermon warning of the costs and consequences of war—and all I ever have been able to think is that the tax experts in Washington must not only have read this sermon—but must have taken every phrase of it literally.

The sermon was preached when our little nation was only 30 years old. And the preacher was that incredibly brilliant, mental firework: Sidney Smith of Surrey:

"We can inform... what are the inevitable consequences. Taxes upon every article which enters into the mouth, or covers the back, or is placed under the foot... taxes upon everything which it is pleasant to see, hear, feel, smell or taste—taxes upon warmth, light, and locomotion, taxes on everything on earth, and the waters under the earth—on everything that comes from abroad, or is grown at home—taxes on the raw material, taxes on every fresh value that is added to it by the industry of man, taxes on the source which pamper man's appetite, and the drug that restores him to health—on the ermine which decorates the judge and the rope which hangs the criminal—on the poor man's salt and the rich man's spice—on the brass nails of the coffin, and the ribands of the bride—at bed or board, couchant or levant, we must pay. The schoolboy whips his taxed top, the beardless youth manages his taxed horse, with a taxed bridle on a taxed road, and, dying, man pours his medicine which has paid 7 per cent, into a spoon, that has paid 15 per cent, flings himself back upon his chintz bed, which has paid 22 per cent, and expires in the arms of an apothecary who has paid a license of a hundred pounds for the privilege of putting him to death. His whole property is then immediately taxed... Besides the probate, large fees are demanded for burying him in the church; his virtues are handed down to posterity on taxed marble. And he is then gathered to his fathers to be taxed no more."

You think the Rev. Mr. Smith, in 1806, was being funny? Start at the beginning of his 144-year-old warning. You pay taxes on food, clothing and shoes. You pay taxes on electric light and train tickets. On water and on fuel. You pay from ore to metal, from tree to planned wood and drugstore items and perfumes, on furs and toys, on hardware, too. On silver spoons (at 20 per cent, by the way) and, finally, estate taxes and the taxes on the monument which weights your grave.

With the same fervor which caused him to issue this warning, Smith also penned an attack on America, but that is long forgotten and pardoned. But it is worth reading. Look it up.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Editorial Note: Be brief. A letter limited to 200 words or less is more likely to be read. Letters signed by the writer must be accompanied by the writer's name and address. Letters represent only the contributor's view.

ANSWER TO "WHY'S?"

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I, also, should like to attempt an answer to the unanswered why's.

"A lone voice asks 'unanswerable why's' And through the world the helpless millions cry: Who cannot think to make a decent try? Who cannot think to make a decent try? Who cannot think to make a decent try? To give us these fat, useless years."

For when a people hear a call To stand and show themselves as men, They look back to the past, where men Endured and worked as pioneers To give us these fat, useless years.

This season, pagan as it goes With sounding brass of double-talk, The blame is ours, and not of those Who were not where the Christ did walk.

This season, to commemorate The way to set God's people free, Has our God, by this Christmas date, Been narrowed down to me and thee?

The children in a children's school Must wait the teacher's guiding hand. Our Teacher wrote our guiding rule: We're trampling in in playground sand.

I take my place beside you, friend. We both had carefree days of youth Which we both wished to never end. And wishing thinking to be truth.

Your child or mine can find in school The human race has far to go And none but the most stubborn fool Would stop content with what we know.

And you and I have both spent years, One part in this, a favored land. Today we face unmeasured fears And mankind's chance remotely grand.

The eyes of shattered youth on us, We see inspire, we see our task. Or slumber muddled lumps of clay We crumble into futile dust.

— STRANGER.

NATIONAL UNITY.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The president makes it plain that the U.S.A. must remain firm in its commitments to the United Nations. His statement affords us a strong anchor for our plans in the days to come when any group might seek to foment discontent by any irresponsible element. It is a well-established fact that our people are now united to face any world-wide threat of communism aggression, just as it has been in any threatened period of national crisis in past history. The extra session of the 81st congress that assembled after the election has firmly demonstrated national unity on all essential questions of national defense. Americans, loyal to the very core, will fight any encroachment upon our rights or privileges as set forth by the constitution of the U.S.A.

J. R. FARRIS.

GM Yields To Price Rollback

Will Sell New Cars At Level Of Dec. 1

DETROIT—(AP)—The auto industry awaited today a clarification of the government's policy on wage controls after its biggest producer yielded to an edict rolling back prices of new cars.

General Motors capitulated yesterday to an order cutting prices on new models to the Dec. 1 level. It was the only producer to fight the order. It agreed to put its 1951 Chevrolets, Pontiacs and Cadillacs back on the market at 1950 prices.

The auto industry's price situation seemed pretty well set—at least until March 1. But the wage picture was left somewhat of a question mark by an announcement made in Washington last night by the wage stabilization board.

The board said it had reached a unanimous agreement on the question of wage controls for 1-000,000 auto workers. It did not say what the agreement was.

Man Arrested In St. Joseph Admits Bad Checks Here

St. Joseph, Mo. police Thursday notified the Lincoln police department that they were holding a man who has admitted passing $125 worth of bad checks in Lincoln and other bad checks through out Nebraska.

In addition he told St. Joseph officers he had passed a $200 check at a Grand Island hotel and two small checks at Hastings.

The bad checks in Lincoln had not yet been reported to police.

St. Joseph authorities reported the man was waiving extradition.

Civil Defense Ordinance For City Prepared

Final Approval Set For Tuesday

A tentative draft of an ordinance creating a civilian defense program for the city of Lincoln was studied at the weekly meeting of the mayor and city directors Friday morning with an eye toward final approval of the measure at Tuesday's council meeting.

The ordinance, prepared by City Attorney John Jacobson, is flexible enough to fit into whatever plans the federal government may set forth in its program.

Co-operation between the city, state and county is also a key-note of the defense ordinance. However, Jacobson said Thursday that the ordinance does not specifically make any provisions for the creation of one committee with a paid outside director for both the city and county program.

Such a central committee plan had been suggested by Russell Brehm, chairman, county board of commissioner, at a recent meeting between city and county officials. Brehm had termed separate organizations as "superfluous."

Jacobson agreed that if a central city-county committee were to be formed it would take council action in addition to the ordinance now set for approval on Tuesday.

Actually, the ordinance considered Friday is mainly the legalizing of action already taken by Mayor Victor Anderson and Civilian Defense Director Ray Osborn.

The act will officially create a program with the mayor as the over-all head and Osborn as defense director. An advisory council is created responsible to the mayor and has as its members C. Russell Mattson, Cobe S. Verner, Robert Livingston, James Stuart, Arthur Dobson, Archie Bailey and John M. Campbell.

The ordinance creates eight other divisions besides the director. They are: Administration, Ray Ramsey; health, Dr. Roland Loder; police, Joe T. Carroll; fire, E. P. Feaster; engineering, David L. Erickson; communications and transportation, Mack Stewart, William Albrecht and A. H. Gims, and welfare, Louis Horne and Joe Fenton.

Another provision of the ordinance provides for the city receiving voluntary help and money contributions to carry out the program.

According to Jacobson the measure is designed "to fit in with the defense program of the whole country."

Emil Moravec Found Guilty

Jury Deliberates More Than 10 Hours

YORK, Neb.—(AP)—A District court jury today found Emil Moravec, 47, of York, Neb., guilty of assault with intent to commit murder.

The jury returned its verdict at 3 o'clock this morning after having deliberated 10 hours and 10 minutes.

Moravec was accused of planting a dynamite booby trap which shattered the leg of Gaylord Brown, a York county farmer.

Judge H. Emerson Kokjer did not pronounce sentence at the time the verdict was returned. It was believed that Moravec will not be sentenced for at least 10 days in order to give his attorneys time to file a motion for a new trial. The charge carries a penalty of two to 15 years.

Insanity Plea.
Attorneys for Moravec, a carpenter and mechanic, had entered a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" for their client Tuesday.

Dr. Paul A. Royal, a Lincoln psychiatrist, testified for the defense that Moravec was suffering from delusions. He suggested that an operation might help Moravec.

The prosecution countered with a statement from Dr. J. C. Nielsen, superintendent of the Hastings State hospital, saying he found no evidence of paranoia, no delusions and no need for brain surgery or for hospitalization for Moravec.

Denied Charge.
Moravec, taking the stand in his own behalf, denied that he had planned to kill Brown, declaring that he had only intended to injure him.

He also testified that he had not intended to kill Brown.

He said he had only intended to injure him.

Navy Enlistees Urged Forego Yule At Home

Navy recruiter Pat Higgins of Lincoln said today that the delay over Christmas holidays may prove costly for navy enlistees.

Naval authorities are expressing concern over the ability of the navy to take all enlistees who have applied and delayed their departure to training stations until after the holidays, Higgins said. This is especially true because of the flood of applications following the president's announcement of a national emergency.

Higgins said many enlistees were anticipating the post-holiday rush to training centers. He advised young men to forego Christmas at home if they wanted complete assurance of being able to enlist within the next month. The delays are undesirable, Higgins pointed out, since they may bring on enlistment quotas.

"If I wanted to kill him, I'd get a shotgun,"

Sheriff Lewis Eckart said that after Moravec's arrest the man signed a statement admitting that he improvised a dynamite bomb and planted it under a pump in Brown's pasture.

When Brown started the pump engine, the bomb exploded, shattering his right leg so that it had to be amputated below the knee. At a preliminary hearing before County Judge Hermann Clock, Moravec told the court Brown had been drinking.

West Germany Weighs Allied Plan Swap Troops For Freedom

Soldiers Of Former Enemy May Join Ranks Of Yanks

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD.
 BONN, Germany—(AP)—West Germany's defeated people weighed today a horse-trading deal with the west: Would they swap the use of German soldiers in defense of Europe for an end to most of the irksome occupation controls and near independence?
 The three allied high commissioners got ready for long negotiations, beginning after Christmas. These eventually may bring German soldiers shoulder-to-shoulder with Americans and West Europeans, in the status of virtual allies, to face up to Moscow.
 Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has not yet given any direct answer on their invitation to him by the Brussels North Atlantic alliance conference to raise German pation controls. He is also pleased, with allied willingness to listen to the German claim to negotiate as equals.

Many months of talking between the west German government and the Big Three loomed before German troops could fight alongside their former enemies against Soviet communism, or west Germany would become almost a free nation.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced last night after a five-hour parley with the high commissioners of France, the United States and Britain, that "there has been a big step forward" in plans to include west German troops in the west's projected 1,000,000-man defense force against Soviet aggression.

Big Concession.
 A communique on the conference disclosed that the three western powers, offering their first big concession in return for German participation, have agreed to place their relations with west Germany "to an increasing degree on a contractual basis." This was taken to indicate a removal of virtually all occupation controls.

The offer was in line with plans for the formation of the international army in western Europe, made earlier this week by the 12

Atlantic pact foreign ministers in Brussels.

After Christmas, negotiations begin to remove numerous occupation controls and replace them with a treaty between the Bonn regime and the Big Three.

This would be the nearest thing possible to a peace treaty.

Much Work Seen.
 But it will be months before the German armed forces are organized and the federal republic becomes a near-independent nation. The first product of the Brussels conference, as far as Germany is concerned, will not be soldiers, but more committees.

First, German-allied committees must be set up to study the size of German units to be put in the international force and to establish measures to place relations between Bonn and the allies on the "contractual basis."

The committees have to report back to the allied high commission. Further talks with the chancellor will follow. Results of the negotiations finally go to the Big Three foreign ministers for consideration.

To Face Charges After 30 Minute Freedom From Pen

A state penitentiary inmate is awaiting trial after an early Wednesday morning escape from the prison.

The Lincoln police booked the man at headquarters just 30 minutes after they learned of his escape from penitentiary officials.

Forrest Teeters, 31, was arrested at his wife's home by Detectives Frank Bohman and George Hansen. He was booked at 5:15 a. m. Police had only learned of his escape at 4:45.

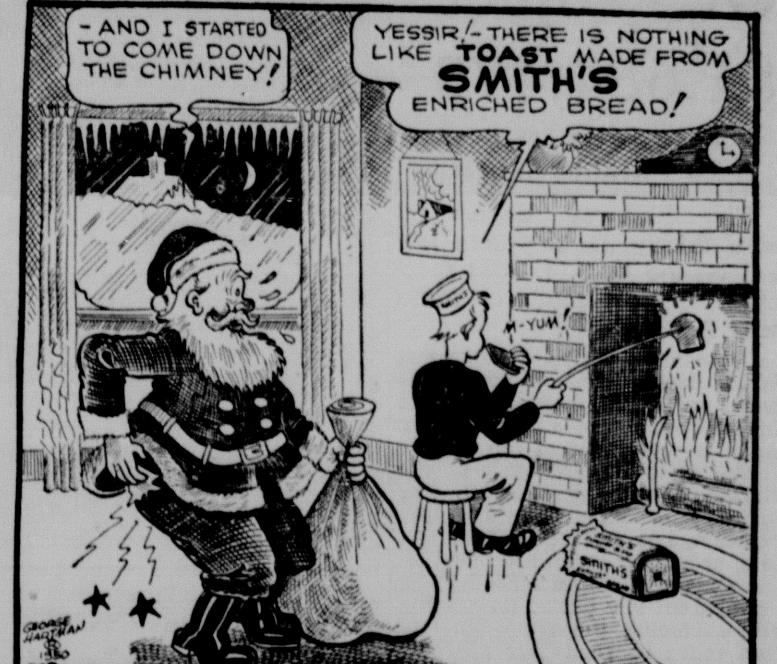

Prison guards discovered Teeters missing at about 3:30 a. m. He told detectives that he had made his escape by leading a prison employee to believe that he was going to take a steam bath in the boiler room of the prison power plant.

The plant is outside the penitentiary walls. Teeters, a trusty, entered the building and then slipped out and made his way to the highway and then home.

Teeters has served 16 months of a two to five-year sentence. He was committed on a charge of burglary from Lancaster county.

Alma Re-location Road Bid Largest Ever Obligated

Total Cost
Of Project
$1,684,478

Federal Funds To Finance Work

The highway department said Friday the apparent low bid on the U. S. 183-383 re-location project south of Alma was $1,684,478.29.

Department officials believe it is the largest amount ever obligated on a single highway project in Nebraska. The work is being financed with federal funds.

The re-location is part of the Harlan county dam project. The highway department awards the contract, but the bids are subject to approval by federal authorities.

Omaha Firm Low Bidder

Apparent low bidder on grading and surfacing the approximately five miles of road was Missouri Valley Construction company, Omaha at $1,102,757.74.

Bushman Construction company, St. Joseph, Mo., was apparently low for bridges over Republican river and Prairie Dog creek. The figure, $581,722.55.

Apparent low bid on re-paving four-tenths mile on U. S. 30 west of the state college in Kearney was $192,299.81, submitted by Ralph Green and W. L. Groesbeck, Des Moines, Ia.

The figure for construction of four-lane highway between Gering and Scottsbluff is $702,466.27, divided as follows: grading and surfacing, Northwestern Engineering company, Rapid City, S. D., $522,644.09; bridge and protection work, Central States Bridge company, Lincoln, $179,822.18.

Grain Storage Space Lacking

BEATRICE, Neb.—(AP)—Elevator storage space in the Beatrice area is at a premium.

A bumper crop, anticipation of higher taxes, the boxcar shortage and good prices have contributed to the situation.

The shortage has been going on for four or five weeks. Elevator operators say it will remain critical for some time to come.

One operator put it this way: "There's just not enough cars to haul away grain which farmers desire to sell."

Anticipated higher taxes enter the picture because many farmers want to place cash received from the crop on this year's income tax return. They feel that taxes will be increased sharply next year.

Stock Raisers Press Against Meat Controls

... More Production Key

ALLIANCE, Neb.—(AP)—Three Nebraska congressmen have been urged to resist "a strong pressure being exerted to force price controls on meat."

The request to Reps. Carl T. Curtis, Karl Stefan and A. L. Miller (R-Neb) came from W. A. Johnson of Alliance, secretary of the Nebraska Stock Growers association.

Johnson wrote that "controls will actually hamper and decrease meat production. The only sound and real solution to the problem is increased production."

"Therefore, may I respectfully urge you to contact the price control officials requesting that the whole situation be thoroughly explored in the light of past experience with a suggestion that a campaign be started to increase production, which will be far more effective than any other possible course of action."

Johnson spoke of World War II's "unbearable OPA and its failure, together with black marketing, graft and the slaughter of meat animals under the most unsanitary conditions imaginable. Controls on meat resulted in higher prices to consumers," he declared.

"Controls actually created shortages in the normal channels of trade, and the acute situation that developed with pharmaceuticals such as insulin, because of the black market, should not be forgotten," Johnson said the talk of controls "is causing concern to livestock producers. The stockman has problems enough without having to try to guess what political appointees may choose to do to his industry."

Kociban and Dion were identified by Friday as the gunmen. The stolen money, found in Mrs. Dion's purse, was returned to Friday.

'Don't Let Death Take Holiday,' Urges Patrol

With the state's traffic death toll up 17 per cent this year, the Nebraska Safety Patrol is stepping up its Christmas safety campaign with this slogan for drivers and pedestrians, "Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday."

Traffic accidents reach their peak at the end of the year, Captain C. J. Sanders, patrol head, points out, because of winter weather, earlier darkness and holiday festivity. Heavier travel also is expected to increase the hazards this year.

"All of these extra hazards call for extra caution," said Capt. Sanders. "Last year there were four lives lost on Christmas day as the result of traffic accidents."

"If you're walking, watch for traffic and wait for the green light before crossing streets. Remember that motorists cannot always see you, especially during early evening darkness."

"If you're driving, start early and take it easy. Be extremely cautious in bad weather and darkness. Don't let the holiday spirit—or spirits—replace your usual caution and common sense."

Rev. Baird Leaves Lexington Church

LEXINGTON, Neb.—(AP)—Rev. J. Baird, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, has resigned his position. He will become field director for Christian education in northern California for the Presbyterian board of Christian education. Rev. Baird and his family will leave Lexington the latter part of next month.

Power Issue Up To Voters

... At Holdrege

HOLDREGE, Neb.—(AP)—Voters will go to the polls in a special election next month to decide whether the city shall purchase two new dual-fuel engines with generators for its power plant.

The decision was reached this week after long discussions by councilmen which began last summer when the Nebraska Public Power system served notice that it was cancelling the present power contract.

Observers said the decision to hold a special election all but ruled out the possibility of a compromise between the city and the Nebraska Public Power system.

Two Years' Interim.

When the old contract was cancelled by NPPS last summer, the city was allowed two years' interim operation under the general basic principles of the old contract, but at a somewhat higher rate.

The new contract offered by NPPS lacked a "power and energy credit" clause which granted the city $1,081.25 per month because it had maintained standby plant equipment, councilmen said.

Would Like Capacity.

The new contract also lacked some of the other desirable features of the old one, councilmen said and had a few new items which the council members said they did not favor.

Voters will decide whether the city should purchase two dual-fuel engines with generators for $300,000. They would increase the capacity of the plant to the point where it would take care of all electrical energy requirements of the city in the foreseeable future.

A survey by a Kansas City engineering firm showed the engines would pay for themselves in a few years in the savings effected in the cost of electricity to the city.

$265,000 School Bond Issue Faces Broken Bow Voters

BROKEN BOW, Neb.—(AP)—Taxpayers are going to be asked to vote on a $265,000 bond issue for school expansion here.

The school board said it decided to ask the vote after a 20 per cent increase in enrollment in the last five years. Both elementary and high schools are overcrowded, the board said.

The bond issue would be used to provide funds to add four rooms to one grade school and eight to another. Three of the rooms in the second school would be used by the high school and another by the junior high. The agriculture shop building would also be enlarged.

If the money is not voted, the board said, it may have to deny school privileges to children from outside the district.

Three-County Farm Meeting Planned At Humboldt February 1

HUMBOLDT, Neb.—(AP)—Farmers from Nemaha, Pawnee and Richardson counties will attend a "grass agriculture" meeting here Feb. 1.

A battery of experts on grasses and legumes and a panel of farmers speaking on practical aspects of grass in a livestock and conservation program will have the top billing at the meeting.

Husband Has No Right To Lose Temper--Judge

OMAHA—(AP)—A husband has no right to lose his temper when he and his wife get into a little squabble, according to a ruling by Judge Perry Wheeler.

The ruling climaxed the half hour which the judge took during the regular central police court session Thursday to patch up the love affair of a young married couple.

The 20-year-old man, Perry Donham of Omaha, was accused of discharging a firearm within the city. His young wife, mother of a four-month-old baby, said he had fired a shotgun into the ceiling "in a fit of temper."

The man explained he became angry during a little spat when his wife told him she didn't love him.

While the courtroom sat in unusual hushed silence the judge gave the couple a talk on the give and take of marriage.

As the talk progressed Judge Wheeler noted the couple holding hands. He dismissed the case.

Republican City May Become Most Modern Town U.S.

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb.—(AP)—The new Republican City may well be America's most modern small town.

Builders are starting from scratch in erecting the town which will overlook the Harlan county dam and reservoir. Old Republican City is being abandoned so the reservoir can be finished.

In keeping with the up-to-date character of the town, the business district will have all retail firms under one roof. Planners describe that as a revolutionary idea.

Industrial firms have bought lots in south and east of the business district. A park area 1,200 by 400 feet is planned.

The plans sound good to residents of old Republican City. Eighty-three property owners—of a total of 100 to 115 in the old community—have bought lots in the new town in the first week. Until Jan. 1, sale of lots, which range from $125 to $500, is restricted to residents of town which is being abandoned.

Near 13,000 Farm Workers Under Social Security

OMAHA—(AP)—Federal social security will embrace about 13,000 regular Nebraska farm workers beginning Jan. 1.

E. H. Dunaway, manager of the Omaha social security office, making that estimate, noted that the program won't be new to some of the farm workers.

Among them, he said, are those who have worked in commercial and industrial jobs since social security went into effect in 1936, those who worked in war plants and World War II veterans who will receive social security credit for their military service.

To be covered by the law, Dunaway explained, a farm worker must work for an employer during a qualifying period of one full calendar quarter.

After his qualifying period, the employee will earn social security credits for each succeeding quarter of employment for the same employer as long as he continues to work at least 60 days on a full-time basis and earns at least $50 a quarter.

Not covered are the farm operator himself and workers who work for one employer less than five months.

Until modern times, the city of Bangkok in Thailand was built largely on floating pontoons or on piles along the river Me Nam and adjacent canals.

Counties Must Pay Price Of Costly Drugs

Used By Patients At N. U. Hospital

Counties sending indigent patients to the University of Nebraska hospital in Omaha must pay for any new and expensive drugs and medicines used for the care of the patient.

This in effect was the ruling handed down Thursday by District Judge Ralph P. Wilson in a "friendly test case" brought by the board of regents against Lancaster county.

Judge Wilson thus upheld legality of the recent amendment passed by the University of Nebraska board of regents which would require counties to pay for this expense.

Test Case.

The county board of commissioners agreed last June 27 to "go along" with the board of regents in making it a test case. The board of regents, through its attorney, had asked that this be done, the regents to pay all court costs.

The county set up grounds for the case by disapproving a $39.97 claim by the regents for medicine furnished four county patients last March.

The board of regents had passed the amendment Nov. 19, 1949, and notified all counties of the action March 15, 1950.

Rising Costs.

According to the lawsuit, the regents found it necessary to pass the amendment in view of the sharply rising costs of medical care, especially where it was necessary to use "new and expensive drugs and medicines."

The suit declared it is the duty of the regents, under the state law, to prescribe rules for the admission and medical care of indigent patients sent to the hospital by counties.

The amendment set forth such medicines as penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, intravenous fluids, oxygen, anesthetic gases, etc.

Waiting List Of Marine Enlistees

Marine Corps Recruiting Officer Bill Crawford said Thursday a waiting list of men in the Lincoln area is being built up for enlistment following the Christmas holidays.

A group will leave Lincoln for Omaha to be enlisted in the marine corps Dec. 27, Crawford said, consisting of those who have selected their service and wish to remain at home until after Christmas.

present the minimum period of enlistment in the regular marines is three years, unless the enlistee would rather join the marine corps reserve for an indefinite period of immediate active duty. Men who have received their pre-induction training and are physically fit are not eligible for voluntary enlistment.

Former marines who are not now in the reserves may enlist in the reserves for immediate active duty, provided they hold the rank of sergeant or below at discharge, Crawford said. The new "quarters allowance" allows the enlistment of the former marines with dependents.

Women marines enlistment age has been dropped to 18 years, the marine recruiter said. Women are sent to Parris Island, N. C. for training and men are sent to San Diego, Calif., Crawford said.

Watch Case Firm Bought By Elgin

ELGIN, Ill. — Elgin National Watch company, with plants in this city and at Lincoln, Neb., announced today it has purchased all outstanding capital stock of the Wadsworth Watch Case company at Dayton, Ky., and will operate that firm as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Elgin announced simultaneously a refinancing program by which the company borrowed $10,000,000 from Metropolitan Life Insurance company on a 15-year serial loan. Of this amount, $6,500,000 is being used to retire current bank loans, $2,700,000 for purchase of Wadsworth's outstanding capital stock, and the balance of $800,000 for current working capital.

Arthur W. Wadsworth, son of one of the co-founders of the Wadsworth company will continue as president of the new subsidiary.

J. G. Shennan, president of Elgin, said Wadsworth was purchased primarily to assure Elgin of a continued supply of high-grade watch cases since facilities of two case manufacturers who had previously supplied Elgin with 30 per cent of its requirements are no longer available.

The capybara, a mammal of Central and South America, is believed to be the largest rodent.

Most Important Man In Town—Santa

By JOE VOSABA.
(Star Staff Writer.)

By far the most important man in town today—to hundreds of little Lincolmites—is the jolly old fellow with the white beard.

We visited him, enthroned in a local department store, to watch again the delicious deception that makes magic of Christmas.

They sit on his lap and hold his hands and speak in hushed tones.

He asks quite one what he wants for Christmas. And some of the answers overheard explain why Santa has a reputation for being merry.

Cadillac, Train.

"A Cadillac and a train," was one answer. Another wanted "a vest—fancy," while a pint-sized cowboy asked for "two smoking guns."

One youngster said he needed a big crane and went on to explain solemnly that he is planning to move his parents' house.

Practically all the little girls ask for dolls, while the boys' favorites are electric trains and guns.

Some Hesitant.

Most of the tykes approach him hesitantly and in awe. But once in a while there's one that has some doubt about Santa Claus.

"I can spot them when they come up by the devilment in their eyes," Santa said. "I try to get their minds on something else."

"Once in a while one will sit on my lap and stroke my long white beard. Then I can feel him give a cautious tug, to see if it will come off."

It's not hard to spot which mother belongs with which child. You just look for the one with the biggest smile when her child is sitting on Santa's knee.

6,000 This Year.

This particular Santa, a retired railroad man, has been playing St. Nick for several years. This year alone, he figures, 6,000 excited kids will have told him what they want.

Each child is asked if he "was good" all year long.

Each swears, wide-eyed, that he was.

It would be hard to doubt them. Watching them in their happiness you realize that you're seeing more than a department-store Santa Claus.

It's great for freshening a jaded Christmas spirit.

Jerner Lauds Employees At Post Office

The Lincoln post office is completing one of the heaviest Christmas mailings in its history, and is proud that all mail and all parcel post was cleared each day, Postmaster O. E. Jerner said Friday.

This record was made possible by the excellent co-operation on the part of the public in response to campaign to mail early, careful planning by those in charge and enthusiastic and efficient performance of their task by the entire post office personnel, Jerner said.

"To all employees for their untiring efforts in handling this enormous Christmas mailing, and for their faithful and loyal co-operation throughout the year, a year which has broken all records, I am truly grateful," Postmaster Jerner said. "We also wish to express our deep appreciation to the national guard for the loan of their trucks, and the city officials who provided storage space for the trucks," he said.

Of Omaha Dies

W. R. McFarland

OMAHA — (AP) — William R. McFarland, 76, veteran Omaha realtor, died Wednesday night at a hospital of a heart ailment.

McFarland was president of the realty firm of McFarland & Kennedy, Inc., and vice president and director of the Occidental Building and Loan association.

$2,000 Settlement

To McCown Approved

A lump sum settlement of $2,109 to Harry McCown against the Krantz Manufacturing company was approved in District court on agreement of both parties.

McCown claimed injuries to his back, left hip and leg as the result of an accident while helping unload mattress spring units last March 17. Of the total settlement, $1,458 was to McCown with the remainder for medical expenses.

"I LOVE YOU, SANTA CLAUS," says 5-year-old Mary Ann Nash of Palmyra, as she and St. Nick exchange hearty hugs. This Santa has been visited by about 6,000 such worshipful youngsters this season. (Star Staff Photo).

Suitcase Of Baby Clothes Is Returned

The return of a stolen suitcase of baby clothes has been reported to police.

Mrs. Maydene Rhoades said that about noon Wednesday she heard a knock on the door. When she opened it she saw a "young kid" holding the missing grip.

"Oh, thanks," Mrs. Rhoades said she exclaimed.

The youth just smiled and walked away, according to the surprised housewife.

The suitcase, which was filled with clothing and blankets for her 8-month-old son, was stolen from near Sixty-fourth and Havelock about 2:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Got Off Bus.

Mrs. Rhoades, who lives in Westboro, Mo., had been let off a bus at Sixty-fourth and Havelock. Her father, James C. Stephens of 6329 Morrill lives just two blocks from the corner where the theft occurred.

The man who grabbed the suitcase drove up to the curb in a "dark colored car with a loud exhaust," Mrs. Rhoades told police, and quickly drove away with it.

Man Is Held In Connection With Lincoln Theft

Council Bluffs, Ia. police have sent word to Inspector E. H. Masters of the local force that they are holding a 61-year-old man who may be implicated in the Grand Union Tea Co. burglary of Dec. 9.

The man, who gave his name as Harry P. Kenny, will face forgery charges there, according to Assistant Chief of Police M. E. Etherton. He allegedly cashed Grand Union Co. checks in Atlantic and Council Bluffs, Ia., Etherton told Inspector Masters.

After a talk Wednesday with federal authorities in Omaha, Inspector Masters said that a federal complaint, charging the suspect with transporting forged instruments across state lines, may also be filed.

Took Blank Checks.

The night of Dec. 9 someone kicked out a glass door of the Grand Union Co.'s building at 4139 O and took over 100 blank checks from an unlocked office safe. The following day one of the checks, written for $10 was cashed in a Lincoln drug store.

The suspect, who has denied he got the checks by breaking into the Lincoln office, was arrested Monday.

Gov. Peterson To Talk Roads With Farmers

Gov. Val Peterson will meet farm organization leaders next Wednesday afternoon to discuss the highway question.

Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, and Chris Millius, state Farmers' Union president, will be in the meeting.

H. C. Filley, master of the state Grange, told the governor a previous commitment would prevent his attendance.

The governor said the discussion would be a "closed session," and informal.

Out of the discussion may come some recommendations to the legislature in the governor's inaugural message.

The three farm groups sponsored referendum petitions which culminated in repeal Nov. 7 of the road revenue bills passed by the 1949 legislature.

Schroeder Of Patrol Winner Of Scholarship

Nebraska Safety Patrolman Elmer P. Schroeder received the first installment on a $650 fellowship award Friday from Elsworth Du Teau, safety chairman of the Nebraska New Car Dealers Association.

The award, given by the Automotive Safety Foundation, will make it possible for Schroeder to attend the spring course in traffic police administration at the Traffic Institute, Northwestern university.

A check for $80 was presented Schroeder in a brief ceremony in the governor's office. Attending the ceremony were: Patrolman Schroeder, Gov. Val Peterson, Elsworth Du Teau and Lt. O. H. Witt.

Biggest Murder Story Of Year Came From Most Unlikely Spot

By BILL DEAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

There was no telling where murder would turn up in Nebraska in 1950.

A pretty 16-year-old carhop was hacked to death on a lake shore near Columbus.

An electrical contractor and his wife were slain as they sat at the bar in a Wilber tavern.

A Scottsbluff cesspool cleaner was shot and killed after a roadside fight near Merna.

A Fremont widower was shot down in his cabin near Fremont by a man who came seeking his wife.

And the biggest murder story of the year came from perhaps the most unlikely place: the peaceful campus of little Peru State Teachers college.

One morning last April, aloof, academic Dr. B. K. Baker walked into the office of Peru's President William L. Nicholas. Dr. Baker, a psychology professor, was about to be fired, and he knew it.

In the outer office he chatted with the president's secretary and two typewriter salesmen. Then he walked into the president's office and dispatched the business that brought him. Drawing an automatic pistol, he fired five shots point blank at Dr. Nicholas.

Then Dr. Maxwell. The psychology professor left the president's office and walked without haste downstairs to the office of his immediate superior.

Dr. Paul A. Maxwell, head of the department of education. As a horrified secretary watched frozen with fear, Dr. Baker killed Dr. Maxwell.

Then, Dr. Baker walked with firm steps down a quiet, tree-lined street to his own home. There he shot himself.

Investigators found this note he left:

"Willie (Dr. Nicholas) tried to fire a weak person."

Just a week before the Peru slayings Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McElroy had sat at the bar of the Fox Hole tavern in Wilber when Clarence Trvz walked in.

Trvz, who later described himself as Mrs. McElroy's lover, was a bachelor and worked for McElroy. He sat down by the McElroys, drew a German pistol, placed it against Mrs. McElroy's head and pulled the trigger.

Nothing happened.

Both slain.

Trvz cocked the weapon and fired. Mrs. McElroy toppled to the floor as Trvz pumped two more shots into her body.

McElroy slid from his stool and started to run. Two shots felled him in a pool of blood on the tavern floor.

Convicted of first degree murder, Trvz was sentenced to life imprisonment.

In Broken Bow late in November and early in December, a long line of witnesses trooped to the stand to tell what they knew about the killing of Gerald Oliver Henderson, 27, of Scottsbluff.

Henderson was shot to death at a roadside near Merna July 2. Another cesspool cleaner, little Fred Brooks of Colby, Kas., was charged with the death.

The jury of nine men and three women heard stories of endless fights between Brooks and Henderson and members of their families. Brooks attorneys did not seek to prove that somebody else had fired the death weapon. But they introduced evidence that Brooks was deathly afraid of the Hendersons, that he had been frequently beaten by them and that they had threatened him before the shooting. The jury decided Brooks was innocent.

Mrs. Eva Johnson made no bones about the fact she had done away with her husband. She pleaded guilty to second degree murder, then took the witness stand to testify in the trial of the Johnsons' hired man, Harvey Durbin.

Durbin, who had earlier pleaded guilty to adultery with Mrs. Johnson, was charged with first degree murder in her husband's slaying.

The jury found him guilty.

Bonnie Lou Merrill was 16, pretty and worked as a carhop in Columbus. One night in August she went for a ride with two young men. One of them, Roland Dean Sundahl, was to take her home.

Never Got Home.

Bonnie Lou did not reach home. Her nude and nearly mutilated body was found on the shore of Lake Babcock near Columbus. Sundahl, father of two, was accused of killing the girl when she resisted his advances.

A jury agreed that Sundahl was guilty of murder in the first degree. Its verdict specified the death penalty.

The shooting of Clayton Annon, sr., in his cabin near Fremont had been a mystery to begin with. But within a matter of days Leonard Motley of Lincoln was arrested and charged with the slaying.

A "Near Miss."

Motley admitted he had waited in the cabin for Annon and Motley. When they came in, Motley said, he shot Annon, then left with his wife. He pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

There was a "near miss" that made news, too.

Emil Moravec, a York carpenter, devised a booby-trap that enclosed dynamite, caps and batteries in a glass jar. Over the top was a board and on it were two pieces of metal. Each was wired and they overlapped. If someone stepped on the top one the piece of metal would make contact and exploded the dynamite.

The bomb was buried in front of an engine which operated a pump in farmer Gavroni Brown's pasture. One night when Brown stepped in front of the engine to crank it, an explosion shattered his leg. Moravec was arrested.

The carpenter-inventor was charged with assault with intent to murder. Attorneys entered for him a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity."

State Will Again Select Farm Youth Exchange Delegate

Another International Farm Youth Exchange delegate is to be selected from Nebraska by Jan. 20 for 1951.

State 4-H Club Leader E. W. Janike of the University of Nebraska said a tentative goal of 50 delegates has been set and plans are to place them in 23 countries.

Nebraska youths who have visited European countries under the IFYE project include Miss Helen Ochser of Madison (now Mrs.

Maurice Stillings of Monte Vista, Colo.), Duane Sellin of Norfolk and Jo Ann Skucius of Chester.

Janike said those wishing to apply for selection should have these qualifications: A high school diploma, 18 to 25 years old, good health, single, be willing to remain out of school for the fall semester of 1951, have a sincere and friendly attitude and have a farm background.

Delegates will be treated as members of the farm family they visit in Europe. The IFYE is an educational and good will project. Those interested in applying, Janike said, should contact their county extension office.

Special Occasions To Mark Christmas For State Wards

"Shut-ins" at the state institutions will not be forgotten during the Christmas season.

"Gifts for the Yanks Who Gave" campaign brought forth a response that has been keeping American Legion and Auxiliary staffs working night and day. More than 500 packages are being sent to veteran "shut-ins" at institutions in the state, Adjutant R. C. Patterson announced.

In addition more than $2,000 was contributed for gifts that meet particular needs. The gifts came from particularly every post and unit of the organizations in the state.

In addition to the Veterans Administration hospital in Lincoln, distribution of gifts will be made at the state mental and tuberculosis hospitals and soldier and sailors home in Grand Island.

All state institutions are preparing special observances of Christmas and at the Lincoln State hospital and Nebraska Home for Children it has been a 10 day observance to insure that all are reached.

Mrs. Harold Prince, vice-chairman of the board of control, said that arrangements have been made so that every child in a state institution will receive a gift. "Something out of the ordinary" will be a special treat at the children's home, she said. Most of the special gifts have been donated and the board of control will provide the others.

At the training school for girls at Geneva and for boys at Kearney, events have been scheduled all week. Boys winning "bands of honor" at Kearney will be permitted to spend the holiday at home where suitable furloughs can be arranged.

In the penal institutions, every inmate will receive a present of candy and nuts from the state. Turkey dinners with all the fixings will be served at the reformatory for men and chicken dinner at the penitentiary. Christmas trees have been installed in the dining rooms, corridors and chapels.

Both institutions will have church services during the morning and movies will be shown following dinner.

At the men's reformatory, most of the inmates are looking forward to packages from home. Supt. George Morris said that very few are overlooked, but that a limit of two packages per person has been fixed.

Both Morris and Warden Herbert H. Hann of the penitentiary smilingly admit that the packages must be examined. Hack saws and files are excluded from the list of acceptable gifts for inmates.

Outside of the penal institutions, where possible presents will be distributed as assemblages round the Christmas trees. Carols will be a feature of all observances.

At the Norfolk hospital, patients will dance to the music of a special "guest orchestra" the day after Christmas. They plan a New Year Carnival dance on Jan. 2.

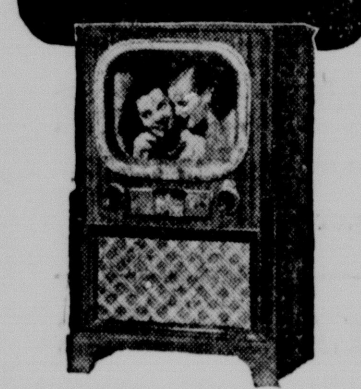

The Hastings hospital also plans a New Year's dance. The recreational therapy department is in charge of the celebration and has a contest for decorations in the various wards. The choir will visit all wards for carols.

The menus at all institutions with slight variations to meet individual conditions will include turkey and dressing with giblet gravy; cranberry sauce; potatoes, salad, vegetable, pie or ice cream and a drink.

Gold-Plated Typewriter Is Governor's Christmas Gift

By ARCH DONOVAN.
(Star Staff Writer)

Department and agency heads at the state capitol Thursday presented as a Christmas token to Gov. Val Peterson—a gold plated portable typewriter.

Political analysts can take it from there. It gives one and all plenty of opportunity to speculate on the implications.

Do they think that after his next term he will go traveling—to Washington perhaps or possible political oblivion?

Is it for use in writing speeches in the next U. S. senate race? Do they think he will need it to write editorials for the Madison Star-Mail of which he is joint owner?

Or, was it a gesture to remember them when he makes out his appointment list for his next term?

Insurance Commissioner Bernard Stone, explaining for himself, said the latter could not be true. "I definitely am leaving state employ," he said. "I just can't afford the luxury of working for the state at the salaries now paid."

Stone said the only thing undecided was the date of his leaving. He said it was possible he might hold over a couple of weeks after the governor's new term starts. "I have not had opportunity to discuss with the governor the actual date," he explained.

Commissioner Stone, an Omaha attorney, has won national attention as one of the outstanding state insurance commissioners. It is freely predicted that because of his intimate knowledge of state insurance problems he will be employed by insurance companies to look after their interests as a lobbyist in the legislature.

Other donors of the typewriter also denied any implications went with the gift. "The annual present to the governor is a tradition that we like," one explained. "There is no compulsion. It is just a group of friends giving a token of the season to another friend."

Morris Adams' Civic Services Are Reviewed

The civic services of Morris N. Adams, prominent Lincoln man, who died Monday, were reviewed by Chaplain T. R. Jones, who spoke at funeral services for Mr. Adams at the Grace Methodist church. More than 500 persons attended the services.

"He can be compared to the spiritual pilgrims of all time, who, while passing this way, made of it a play of strings for the refreshment of other pilgrims, who as they journeyed became stronger," Chaplain Jones said.

Rev. Jones reviewed the service which Mr. Adams had rendered to this community. These included his duty as superintendent of his Sunday school, as official of his church and in various other local activities.

The chaplain stressed his "very deep Christian faith as I came to know it, and especially his faith in life beyond, his belief in God, not only as creator of the universe but as father of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Harold C. Sandall of Lincoln also officiated at the services. Mrs. Molly Forks was soloist, accompanied by Miss Margaret McGregor at the organ. Spanish-American war veterans conducted further services at the graveside in Wyuka cemetery.

Builders Bureau Names Directors

Three new directors were named by the Lincoln Builders at an annual election held Wednesday. President Harold Hoppe said Thursday.

The new directors, who will serve three-year terms, are: Richard Gerber, Western Brick and Supply company; Charles Lawlor, Lawlor's Sporting Goods and Hardware; James Watson, Olson Construction company.

Outgoing directors include M. W. Anderson, Neil Hall and Hoppe. Holdovers are Earl Luff, Leo McCabe, Russell Eichelberger, Verner Meyers, Orville Kingery and Allan Korsmeyer.

Election of officers for the next year will be held in the near future, Hoppe said.

Hit On Head With Telephone Receiver

Donald Parizek, 17, of Concordia State teachers' college at Seward, was treated at St. Elizabeth's hospital about 7 p. m. Thursday after an unknown assailant had jerked a telephone receiver out of the booth in a downtown theater and hit him across the head.

According to the police report, Parizek snuffed a three-fourths inch cut. He was treated and released.

Celebration Of Christmas Said 'Imperative'

Yuletide spirit was instilled into members and their wives of the Optimists club Thursday noon at the Cornhusker hotel.

The annual Christmas party was held in place of the noon lecture. Dr. Leland H. Leshner, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, gave a Christmas message.

He told the group that it is imperative for Americans and Christians to celebrate Christmas.

"For this is the birthday of one who lived the most worthy life in history," Dr. Leshner said. "Other heroes may come and go, but Christ has remained for nearly 2,000 years."

Christmas, he said, cannot be confined just to churches and hearts of the faithful. It has a universal appeal, Dr. Leshner asserted, and therefore is celebrated everywhere.

As a word of advice, Dr. Leshner said:

"To keep from missing the spirit of Christmas, you must listen to the silence of the stars and the hush of night so you can hear the angels' song. Then you will know the meaning of peace on earth and goodwill to men."

Bob Bretland played some selections on the organ, mainly in the Christmas vein.

Welfare Society Has Annual Yule Party

The Welfare Society of North Tenth street held one of its most successful parties in years Wednesday night, with 450 members and children attending.

Highlights of the program were a pageant, Trail of the Christmas Star, a piano solo by Harry Grasmick and a song by Gerry Hahn.

Group singing was led by the master of ceremonies, John H. Schultz, and accompanied by Mrs. Betty Brehm. Rev. J. H. Wacker spoke on the spirit of Christmas, and Santa, played by John Greenwood, presented candy and toys to the children.

Board Told Prepare For Legislature

Assistance Policies Must Be Faced - - Governor

Stern warnings to be prepared to give the legislature "advice on the basis of experience of yourselves and staff" was given the board of control at budget hearings this week.

Policies in the care of the aged and children will have to be faced by the legislature, the governor said.

The present policy of "farming out" children to boarding homes should be considered, he said when the tax budget was increased from $88,000 to $134,000 for this type of service. It included an increase of $10 per month in the amount paid for such care.

Use State Home "Why not use the Home for Children?" the governor inquired. "That is why the legislature established it."

He brought out that 29 persons are employed in the foster care unit and that the budget for expenses of finding and supervising such homes is being increased $22,000.

Director Vandemoer explained that it is necessary to have trained social workers for this work.

"Do you mean to tell me that it is necessary to have a masters degree to supervise rearing of children?" the governor snapped. "If so, there are many pretty good people making a total flop."

Not Total Cost. Mrs. Harold Prince of the board of control explained that this does not include total costs. She said administration of the foster care unit was not included.

"Before the children are sent to boarding homes, the Home for Children pays whatever medical costs are necessary to put them in good physical condition," she explained. "It is because they are neglected that they become state charges so nearly every one needs attention. In addition they are outfitted with clothing there."

"I cannot see why the home cannot handle this problem," the governor said. "Let's get together on a state policy."

Problem of Aged.

The governor also instructed the board to consult with the superintendents of state hospitals in a study of the growing problem of caring for the aged. His instruction followed a statement by Mrs. Prince that at Norfolk mental hospital the percentage of persons over 65 admitted has increased from 20 per cent in 1920 to 49 per cent this year.

"Are our mental hospitals now being used as refuges for the aged?" the governor inquired. "What right has county mental health boards got putting people in our mental institutions who are merely old?"

Mrs. Prince explained that it was senile dementia under which they were committed.

Law Change.

Board Member William Diers recommended that state laws be changed. "I don't believe any commitment should be final until after an examination by the hospital staff," he asserted.

He explained that the county board is made up of a lawyer, the clerk of the District court and a medical doctor. No trained psychiatrist participates in the commitment and an eye, ear and nose specialist could be a member of the board, he said facetiously.

"The patient is entitled to an examination by doctors trained in this field before commitment," he insisted.

Mrs. Prince suggested the possibility of separate buildings for those whose mental illness is merely the result of old age. She said geriatrics wards are provided and special attention given to this type of medical attention but the problem has not been decided for the future.

She pointed out that the percentage of aged in Nebraska is near the top of the entire nation. It is a growing problem, she explained, and the state must decide on a policy soon.

Legal Question Blocks Approval Quonset Building

A legal difficulty held up formal council approval Monday on the request of the T. O. Haas Tire company to erect a quonset type building for its business on West O street.

Council members, however, assured the company that there would be no opposition from their group and even approved the measure conditionally.

The condition and legal problem concerns a requirement that the zoning board of appeals pass on all construction permits issued for a three-mile radius outside the city limits in all classifications other than residence A.

Board Approval.

The proposed construction is industrial A and therefore must have the approval of the zoning board before the council can take formal action. If the zoning board approves the measure the council's approval is assured.

Two other zoning matters were referred to the board also. Mrs. Harry Burnett is seeking a change from residence A to local business of property at 6244 Fremont. James S. Wheeler has filed an application for a change in zoning from apartment B to local business of the northwest corner of Twelfth and J streets for the operation of a public parking lot. The denial by the zoning board of the application of D. E. Stump for a garage set-back at 1335 South Fortieth was upheld by the council with Roy Sheaf casting the only dissenting vote.

Youth Slightly Hurt—A carlike collision at Eleventh and M about 5:40 p. m. Thursday resulted in a cut knee for 11-year-old Donald K. Parrish, of 1416 B. Donald was riding north on Eleventh when he collided with a car driven by Jack R. Byrne, 21, of 6336 Colfax. Byrne had been stopped at the intersection and then headed on west on M. MRS. KEITH KLINE YOUNG

Mary Elizabeth Moomaw Marries Keith K. Young

In the presence of the members of the immediate families, the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Moomaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Moomaw, to Keith Kline Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin E. Young, was solemnized at 4 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, December 21, at Westminster Presbyterian church.

Lighted candles banked with Christmas greens, and large arrangements of scarlet poinsettias against a white satin reredos appointed the chancel for the double ring service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. John Douglas Clyde.

The wedding music was played by Miss Josephine Waddell who also presented a prelude of organ music preceding the ceremony.

Miss Shirley Wilson was the maid of honor and bride's only attendant and wore a suit of red wool with navy blue accessories. White feathered carnations fashioned her corsage. William Reinisch of Geneva, served Mr. Young as best man.

For her wedding, the bride wore a dressmaker suit of navy blue wool with matching navy and white accessories. Completing her costume was a shoulder corsage of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for the members of the family and bridal party was held at Colonial Cup, where a low arrangement of holly and white tapers centered the bridal table.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will make their home at 240 South Twenty-ninth street following a short wedding trip.

Both are attending the University of Nebraska where the bride is a member of Towne club, and Mr. Young is a member of Kappa Sigma.

Pearson Loses Sponsor

NEW YORK—(AP)—Adam Hat Stores said today it would not renew radio commentator Drew Pearson's contract when it expires Feb. 18.

A statement issued by Charles V. Molesworth, Adam Hat president, said a sponsorship of Pearson's weekly program was being dropped because of "a planned change in advertising media for 1951." The company said the decision was not a result of the controversy between Pearson and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

A company spokesman added the decision was made at least as far back as the middle of last month, several weeks before the McCarthy-Pearson exchange in which the senator called for a boycott of Adam Hats.

In Washington, The Evening Star reported that Pearson had been notified of his sponsor's decision, but that negotiations were continuing.

The company spokesman said "I'm sure he has been notified," but "I don't know anything about new talks."

The spokesman added that the American Broadcasting Co. was given the required 90 days' notice last month that the time contract would not be renewed.

McCarthy attacked Pearson in a senate speech last Friday. Among other things, he called Pearson "a character assassin" and said Adam Hat should stop sponsoring Pearson's Sunday night broadcasts.

Pearson retorted in a statement that "Sen. McCarthy is rapidly making the initials 'M.C.' supposed to mean member of congress, take on a new meaning—'mental case.'"

Chancellor R. G. Gustafson and R. W. Devoe, chairman of the board of regents of the University of Nebraska, conferred for 45 minutes with Gov. Val Peterson Thursday on financing of the school's activities.

Both the governor and school authorities expressed regret that an impression has been given that sharp differences of opinion exist between the two.

"We are all interested in the welfare of the university and our talks have all been pleasant as we discussed how best we could work out problems faced in administration of the school," Gov. Val Peterson said.

The rapidly changing economic and national conditions since work started on the budget last April made some changes necessary, the chancellor told the governor at the hearing Monday. He said the board of regents will meet Saturday in executive session to discuss bringing the request up-to-date.

The governor said the discussions covered a wide range of subjects that the chancellor and Devoe will want to discuss at the regents meetings.

Preparing the university for possible calls upon them by the federal government special services during the declared emergency and partial mobilization and the effect of the partial "freeze" on building request by the governor were discussed.

620 Families Get Holiday Bureau Gifts

Christmas will be a little happier this year for 620 Lincoln families, thanks to 32 local agencies, civic clubs and organizations.

The 32 groups are those that cleared their donations through the Holiday Bureau of the Community Chest and Council of Social Agencies.

Nearly 1,500 children are represented among the families.

Last year 469 families were aided through the bureau.

Clearing Agency.

The bureau acts as a clearing agency to distribute baskets, food orders, clothing, toys and other items to the needy.

The work of the toy shop of the Family Service association in providing toys for children was cited as outstanding. Assisted by 12 other agencies, the shop cared for 340 families involving 1,089 children.

The Salvation Army kettle collections provided food orders for 172 families.

The bureau also aided the post office in helping process letters to Santa Claus.

Other groups who used the services of the bureau:

Lancaster County Relief bureau, Veterans Service center, Foster Care unit, Westminster Presbyterian church, County Welfare, Red Cross, First Presbyterian church, Phi Beta, Beta Sigma Phi, Boy Scouts, primary class of First Presbyterian church, teachers from Havelock school, Urban League, Legion auxiliary, National Guard, Catholic Social Service bureau, Trinity Methodist church, Church of the Brethren (Sunday school class), Methodist Men's fraternity, VFW auxiliary, and Girl Scouts, Y-Teens at Lincoln High.

Policy For Quizzing School Children Set

As the result of a conference Thursday afternoon, police officers may now question a child at school without first notifying his parents, if the school principal consents.

Those attending the conference included Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll and other officers, Supt. of Schools Steven N. Watkins and Willis Hecht, school attorney.

Chief Carroll and Hecht will draw up a directive to be sent to all school principals in Lincoln.

Both parties concerned stressed the fact that it will be the exception and not the rule when a child is questioned without notifying the parents.

One fear was squelched when Chief Carroll made it clear that police still could not be given custody of a child by the school.

Kiwanians Are Told Yule Message Same

Virgil C. Welch, of Nebraska Wesleyan university, told members of the Kiwanis club Friday that, in spite of war and threats of war, the Christmas message is still "peace on earth and goodwill to men."

Speaking at the regular meeting at the chamber of commerce, Welch said that the coming of Jesus into the world was "the greatest fact in history, because it brought a new way of life to men."

"Peace and goodwill are fundamental to the structural basis of society," he said. "To establish peace and goodwill has its price—just as freedom has its price."

Attorneys Discuss Gas, Oil Legislation

A special committee of the Nebraska Bar association met Friday at the Cornhusker hotel for a discussion of gas and oil legislation as it affects Nebraska.

Chairman of the special committee is Paul L. Martin of Sidney.

A general business meeting of the executive council of the association was held at the same time.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Is the latchstring out at your house? One of the greatest pleasures of the season is to visit where the hostess really knows how to make her guests feel at home. But as any woman who knows will tell you, being a top-flight hostess does not just come naturally. It's the result of a powerful lot of thought, thoughtfulness, and, you guessed it, preparation.

The test of the good hostess lies in how well she entertains her unexpected guests. At this time of year, that's a test you are almost sure to have to pass.

Your Party Shelf.

It's not enough just to be cordial and warm as you greet your guests at the door. You must show in a little more tangible fashion that you are glad they came. For just such occasions, the smart hostess has a bit of party fixings on hand. File away a few spur-of-the-moment ideas for light snacks, hors d'oeuvres or tea refreshments. If you see to it that the makings are always in your kitchen, you'll welcome the pull on your latchstring anytime.

When you know guests are coming, plan what you'll serve so that you won't be tied to the kitchen after they arrive. The simplest fare is preferable to an absent, flurried or flustered hostess—in fact, she's no hostess at all!

Your guests are sure to be at ease when you are. Should unexpected company arrive when the household is in an uproar, explain the situation simply; then up to them. If they like conversation, keep it rolling. If they enjoy cards, suggest a hand or two. If they like parlor games, keep a wary eye out for a new one now and then. But never impose them on unwilling subjects!

With your hair always in place, and your lipstick on even though

Unexpected guests are the test of any woman's ability as a hostess. Here's the way to pass it with honors!

For Happy Guests.

Remember that people come to your house to see you and not your television set, radio or phonograph. But don't make the mistake of expecting your guests to entertain themselves. You know your friends' taste and to be a gracious hostess, you must play up to them. If they like conversation, keep it rolling. If they enjoy cards, suggest a hand or two. If they like parlor games, keep a wary eye out for a new one now and then. But never impose them on unwilling subjects!

With your hair always in place, and your lipstick on even though company is not expected, and something on your kitchen party shelf, you can easily be one of the best-loved hostesses anywhere around!

"YOUR CROWNING GLORY"
This booklet shows six exciting, exquisite individual hair-dos... one each for the six types of faces. Each hair-do is designed EXCLUSIVELY for John Robert Powers by world-famous hair stylists. See them modeled by Powers models of various types and age groups. Front and rear views of each hair-do are shown so you'll find it easy to adapt the one best suited for YOUR personality. ## Seal Sales Reach 79 Pct. Of Goal

The Lancaster County Tuberculosis association reported Friday that it had reached 79 per cent of its goal of $19,875 in its Christmas drive, or $15,679 so far.

The TB drive, which started Nov. 20, will end Christmas day. Thomas C. Woods, seal sales chairman, said if 85 per cent of the goal is reached by Christmas day, he felt certain contributions coming in after that date would make the quota.

Engagement of...

Miss Mary Inglis Aitken To Raymond Clifton L. Greer, Jr.

... Takes Top Spot In Today's News

TODAY IS THE DAY WE MAY reveal one of the deep secrets we have been hugging for days and days—and we are sure, that except for members of the families, the betrothal news will come as a complete surprise.

Today Mr. and Mrs. William Inglis Aitken are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Inglis, to Raymond Clifton L. Greer, Jr., of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clifton L. Greer of Portsmouth, N. H.

Miss Aitken is a graduate of Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., and is a member of the Junior League of Lincoln.

Mr. Greer, who served as an ensign in the navy during World War II, is a graduate of Babson Institute, Wellesley, Mass., and now is a member of the financial staff of one of the nation's larger corporations.

WE HAVE SOME OTHER secrets, too—but they are after-Christmas surprises—

HAD TO STOP YESTERDAY before we were even well started on the news—So—think we may as well begin where we left off on Thursday—

Among the bits of news that were all set up in type but didn't see the light of day was an item concerning Mrs. Thomas Howell of Chicago, and her granddaughter, Miss Polly Barnes of Los Angeles, who are coming on Saturday to spend the Christmas week-end as the guests of Mrs. Howell's nephew, Edwin J. Faulkner, and Mrs. Faulkner.

ALSO PLANNED FOR THURSDAY was the story of Mrs. George Rokahr's 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock hors d'oeuvres party on Thursday evening at Hotel Cornhusker.

Mrs. Rokahr invited one hundred and fifty guests to meet her holiday house guest, Miss Lillian Frinstrom of New York City and Paris, France—who also is the fiancée of Mrs. Rokahr's son, Jack Rokahr of Caracas, Venezuela.

THURSDAY'S DOOR SLAMMED shut on the Holiday club, too—Here is what we said yesterday about the club party:

AND OF COURSE ONE WOULD expect the Holiday club to have a holiday party—and it is—The Holiday Dancing club will have its Christmas dinner dance on Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker, so we hear—Only one guess will be needed for the motif to be featured in the table appointments—Understand that the committee in charge of the affair is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt who serve as chairmen; and composed of Mr. and Mrs. Jack von Gillern, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Prucha, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Joyce.

Guests at the party will include Mr. and Mrs. Don Pegler, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Burgett of Highland Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. William Newsom of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. William N. Rotton, Riverdale, N. Y.;

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wake of Seward; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrison of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson.

FOUND AN EXTREMELY interesting Christmas day event—On Christmas afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Willard Cowles will be a dinner host and hostess at their home when their guests will be three foreign students at the University of Nebraska, Bjorn Carlsen of Norway; Joseph Szikszoy of Hungary; and Clement Huffman of Germany. Also dining with Dr. and Mrs. Cowles will be Dr. Cowles's cousin, Prof. emeritus David Whitney.

SPEAKING OF CHRISTMAS AND this and that—Did you know that Avery Forke devotes several evenings before the holiday to give the small fry of his friends, a thrill—Mr. Forke purchased a Santa Claus suit a few years ago, dons it each holiday season, piles up a good stock of candy, and goes calling on the young set.

YOU ALREADY KNOW, doubtless, that the wedding of Miss Patricia Crowsky and Robert L. Packard is an event of Wednesday, December 27—But today Miss Crowsky makes announcement of the members of the bridal party—For her matron of honor Miss Crowsky has chosen Mrs. Fred Bishop, and her four some of bridesmaids includes Mrs. Frank Logan, Mrs. Douglas Creek, Mrs. Robert Schreiner and Miss Shirley Seright. Cozier Kline will serve Mr. Packard as best man, and the ushers will be Harry Spencer,

MISS MARY INGLIS AITKEN

Don DuTeau, Paul Brunzell, and Warren Nelson of Holdrege. The candles will be lighted by Miss Betty Rosenlof and Miss Betty Ruth Ball.

HAVE NEWS OF A PRE-Holiday arrival away back in Rochester, N. Y.—She is Miss Sarah Kohler Branch who arrived on Friday, December 22—just in time to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch, Jr. The small Sarah's mother is the former Mary Lou Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holtz—No need to tell you, but anyway, Sarah's doting paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch—and we think you might like to know that her paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. M. Olive Watson.

FROM WHAT WE HEAR it is to be a gay holiday season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Joyce—Arriving today from Alma to spend the holidays was Mr. Joyce's mother, Mrs. George Joyce of Alma—Saturday brings Mrs. Joyce's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Amsden, and their daughter, Terri, of McCook, and coming from Omaha on Sunday to join the family group will be Mrs. Joyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Amsden; her brother, Don Amsden, Jr., and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sherwood.

ARRIVING IN LINCOLN this evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Bryan, who are coming from Somerville, Mass., to spend the holidays with Mr. Bryan's family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bryan. Just in case you didn't know, Mr. Bryan is working on his master's degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Bryan family group won't be complete this season, however—Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Bernd, left last week for California where Mr. Bernd has been called for active duty at Camp Hamilton, near San Francisco. Mr. Bernd will reside in Palo Alto.

PLANE-ING IN FROM Peekskill, N. Y., on Sunday will be Miss Jean Sturdevant who is chief dietitian at the Franklin Delano Veteran's hospital. Miss Sturdevant comes to Lincoln to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sturdevant, and her aunt, Miss Lida Sandusky.

Other house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant during the Christmas week-end will be Mr. Sturdevant's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Sturdevant of David City. But to get back to Miss Sturdevant for the moment—She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

HEARD THAT MR. AND MRS. A. F. Ackerman have gone to San Antonio, Tex., to spend the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. Marlow Smith. Before returning to Lincoln in January, Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman will go to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in the southwest.

HOLIDAY GUESTS AT THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. George Bastian, we are told, will be Mrs. Bastian's mother, Mrs. A. A. Metz of York, and Mr. Bastian's father, G. L. Bastian of Grand Island.

AND HERE IS A HAPPY holiday family foursome having fun at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leadley—The bride group includes Mr. and Mrs. Leadley's daughter, Mrs. Dean Yates, Dr. Yates—of Denver; Jerry Swanson and Miss Jean Leadley, whose marriage will be an event of January.

MRS. JOHN H. MARTIN

Marriage Is Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Mary Lou Rustermier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rustermier, to John H. Martin of Everett, Mass., took place on Saturday, November 4, at Blessed Sacrament church. White chrysanthemums decorated the altar for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rev. A. J. Kraemer, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Gerald Geiss, who also accompanied Helmut Sienknecht who sang "Panis Angelicus," "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and "Ave Maria." The bride attendants were Miss Joan Rustermier, sister of the bride, frocked in pastel blue taffeta, and Miss Marsha Rustermier, cousin of the bride, wearing aqua taffeta. They carried bouquets of pink roses tied with pink satin ribbon. Miss Hallie Ann Rustermier, in light green nylon sheer, was ring-bearer, and flower girl was Miss Barbara Ann Rustermier.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy

In courtesy to their daughter, Miss Ruth Marie Stevens, and her fiancé, Richard P. Blunk of San Mateo, Cal., whose marriage will be solemnized at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, at Westminster Presbyterian church, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd C. Stevenson entertained Thursday evening at dinner at Colonial Cup.

Members of the family and bridal party coming from out of town in time for the dinner included Walter C. Blunk of San Mateo, father of Mr. Blunk; Mrs. James Sessions and Mrs. J. Richard Stewart, both of Des Moines, Iowa, who will attend Miss Stevens as bridesmaids; and the ushers, Charles Barnell of Omaha, Orval Connor of Burwell, Alfred States of North Platte, and Jean Hunter of Wahoo.

Ladies Day Out

In place of the regular meeting of the Ladies Day Out club, the members met Thursday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. for a Christmas party with their children as special guests. In charge of the program, which featured games, a gift exchange and the appearance of Santa Claus, were committee members of the Y.W.C.A. playroom.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Louetta J. Paylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allison R. Parker, to Bernard Kinnaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawless of Unadilla, which took place on Saturday, December 9, in the chapel of St. Paul Methodist church. The Rev. Frank Court read the lines of the service in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

Miss Jackie Amen attended Miss Paylor as maid of honor, and the best man was Darrel Isaac of Unadilla.

The bride wore for her wedding a wool suit in navy blue with shocking-pink accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A small reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker. The couple will reside at Unadilla.

Bread Prices
Rise Cent A
Loaf In City

Lincolinites Friday were paying a penny more for a loaf of bread.
The recent price boost was made necessary by increases in baking supply costs, bakery representatives said.
Bread is the only product affected, and the decision to raise prices a cent was made "reluctantly," representative said.
All future increases, it was said,
will depend on operating costs.
Ice cream prices have also risen two cents and butter has increased five cents in the last year.
While the ice cream prices were attributed mainly to increased operating costs, the available supply of milk and cream has made a considerable difference. Milk production was reported down from last year.
Sugar has now fallen about 10
cents a hundred and fruit juice is off as much as 10 per cent. Coffee prices have continued up and now show a recent two cent increase.
Meat prices have remained normal throughout the week with only the usual fluctuation of some cents.

States Ready To Take Over Bridge
South Sioux City

Bridge engineers of the Nebraska and Iowa highway departments have made a joint inspection of the South Sioux City bridge, preliminary to taking it over from Dakota county, Nebraska, the present owner.
Nebraska State Engineer F. H.
Klietsch said the bridge engineers will report soon on the structure's condition, and recommend such re-conditioning as may be needed.
Dakota county then would be asked to make the recommended repairs, or, as in the case of the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben bridge, to set up a fund in escrow for it.
H. G. Schlitt made the inspection for Nebraska and E. W.
Blumenschein for Iowa.
The two states are preparing to take over the bridge and operate it toll-free when it becomes clear of debt in a few months.

jury in November in connection with the shooting of 13-year-old
William Hewitt of Hastings.
Attorneys for young Turpit said they would appeal the case to the Supreme court.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Proposal To Utilize State's Wheat Drafted

The draft of a wheat utilization bill, under which growers of Nebraska would raise their own research and promotion fund, was delivered to Sen. Arthur Carmody today for introduction in the legislature.

Herbert J. Hughes, Imperial, president of the Nebraska wheat research foundation, explained the purpose of the bill.

Wheat growers would pay a tax not to exceed a half cent per bushel, toward the fund which would be administered by the department of agriculture.

The tax would be collected at the point of first sale, in which instances, is the country elevator. In case of a government crop loan, the amount would be deducted from the loan.

The money would be used to carry on research in crop improvement, pest and disease control, and finding new uses for wheat and by-products.

The mosaic risk was cited as an example of the problems which would be studied.

Such a bill has been effective in Oregon, Hughes said, and a similar bill has been drawn for introduction in the Kansas legislature.

Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, North Dakota and Colorado growers are considering it.
